

Summing up CANADA'S CURRENT CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR, Col the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, told thousands of American Legionnaires in Toronto on the 4th of July with the Canadian Corps Association, that today there are over 200,000 officers and men in the Canadian Active Army enlisted for service, among them over 6,000 from the United States. In the Army, in England and in Canada, there is now a 1st, a 2nd, a 3rd, a 4th and a 5th (Armored) Division, an Army Tank Brigade, and sufficient battalions mobilized to provide the infantry with another Division. These do not include the men on Active Service on Canada's Coast Defences doing a grim drab job, or the Veterans Guard of Canada, responsible for the exacting duty of guarding and securing the Internment Camps. Over 600 of the Staff Pilots or Instructors in or attached to the Royal Canadian Air Force are from the United States, and about 15,000 pupils from south of the 49th parallel are included in the R.C.A.F., now totalling 55,000, with over 80 establishments in operation and with three complete squadrons overseas, and airmen being set for 25 more. The Royal Canadian Navy now has 20,000 officers and men, and 200 ships and craft of various types (not including harbor craft). "Speaking of the increasing production of instruments of war, the Minister said that hundreds of Bren guns are now being produced weekly; universal carriers are coming off the line at the rate of hundreds per month; the first 25 pounders have been delivered, and quantities are increasing monthly; the pilot models of both infantry and cruiser tanks are out of the shops and early production is in prospect. Three-inch mortars and aerial bombs are being produced and some anti-tank guns have already been shipped overseas. Direct expenditures this year, the Minister of National Defence stated, will not be far short of the total amount Canada spent in the four years of the last war, an estimated $1,450,000,000 in addition to which $1,150,000,000 will have to be found as Canada's form of Lease-Lend to help finance munitions and supplies which this country is producing for Britain, a total sum of $2,600,000,000 for war purposes in taxes and loans to be provided by less than 12 million people.

Some conception of the gigantic purchasing task of the Dominion Department of Munitions and Supply may be gained from the fact that no less than 377 separate contracts have been awarded to companies scattered across Canada from coast to coast for the manufacture of components of the PERSONAL EQUIPMENT OF THE CANADIAN SOLDIER. While no accurate figures are available, possibly 75,000 to 100,000 workers in some 70 Canadian communities, large and small, are employed at least part time in the making of what the soldier wears or the equipment he carries. The equipment of a single soldier for service in the field—his battle dress, steel helmet, gas mask, rifle and bayonet, haversack and contents, web equipment, eating utensils, water bottle, ground sheet, greatcoat, cap, boots, socks, shirts, clasp knife, cartridge pouches, pay book, identity disk, and a number of minor items—costs in the neighborhood of $120. Almost every item is made in the Dominion. A respirator, for example, is a much more intricate piece of equipment than might be indicated by outward appearance. The type worn by the Canadian soldier is of Canadian design. Lieut.-General A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian forces overseas and President of the National Research Council, and the late Sir Frederick Banting carried out a great deal of research in connection with it. The mask comprises more than 40 components, which are manufactured in 67 plants and assembled in a central factory in Quebec. The steel helmet, too, was designed in Canada and is said to be one of the best in the world. The helmet is stamped from a light, special alloy steel plate. It will repel a .45 calibre special jacket bullet fired at a range of three feet. The helmet is fitted with a carefully designed anti-shock lining. A set of web equipment consists of 22 pieces. Never manufactured in Canada before the war, web equipment is now being made in two plants in the Dominion. The pioneer manufacturer, whose plant is situated in an Ontario town, employs about 1,500 persons and makes nothing but web equipment.

Restrictions on the sales and distribution of GASOLINE and an increase in the price announced on Tuesday by Oil Controller G. R. Cottrell are hoped to lead to a reduction of 50% in non-essential use of gasoline and other oil products. It is hoped that the new regulations will act as a general guide to the public who will voluntarily cut the consumption. If the new regulations do not have this effect, rationing will result, the Oil Controller stated. . . . The following steps have been taken to attain this objective: prohibition of sales, distribution and delivery of gasoline from seven p.m. to seven a.m. weekdays and from seven p.m. Saturdays to seven a.m. Mondays; an increase of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline and other similar products such as kerosene and distillates used in tractors; this increase went into effect on Wednesday; prohibition of the use of credit cards, putting gasoline and oil sales back on a cash and carry basis, and restricting sales to private consumers to retail stations only; initiation of a national campaign urging users to cut down drastically on pleasure use of motor cars, and explaining seventeen ways by which motor fuel may be conserved by care in driving and handling cars. . . . The reasons advanced for the action are twofold. The first is the shortage of tankers. The loss of ocean tanker tonnage in the Battle of the Atlantic has seriously reduced the stocks of petroleum products on hand while, in addition, the present transportation facilities are sufficient to bring in only seventy-five per cent of the present rate of consumption. But in addition the present facilities are to be cut still further by the turning over to Britain of eight Norwegian tankers which have been operating to Canada. Britain has asked for the tankers and their delivery will further disrupt the transportation facilities to this country. The increase of one cent a gallon is for the purpose of giving partial relief from the increased cost of crude at the base and the added cost of transportation. War requirements are mounting month by month. The Commonwealth Air Training Scheme, the R.A.F., the R.C.A.F., are constantly using more gasoline and oil while the requirements for the army are now running into millions of gallons a year and are steadily increasing. The necessity of having supplies always available for the Canadian navy is a heavy strain and increasing. But in addition to the growing demands of the three services, war industry is making constantly increasing demands on available oil and gasoline supplies. War industry already requires several hundred million gallons of fuel oil yearly.

MANY PRIZES TO BE GIVEN IN RAFFLE

Every Sixteenth Ticket Bought Will Win a War Savings Certificate

$50.00 IS FIRST PRIZE

Ladies' Auxiliary Makes Plans for Regatta Activities

With the regatta this year being a war effort endeavor labelled "On To Victory" Regatta, it has been deemed appropriate that the raffle should be along the same lines and that the entire proceeds should be distributed as prizes. The prizes being war savings certificates, the raffle is an integral part of the regatta war effort.

On Wednesday morning it was decided that the first prize would be a $50.00 certificate; the second prize, a $25.00 certificate, and the third, fourth and fifth prizes, $10.00 certificates each.

The total value of these prizes is $105.00, and all the profits of the raffle above this amount will be divided into $5.00 certificates and distributed as prizes. Thus, if after the first five prizes are deducted there remains $400, one hundred $5.00 certificates will be distributed as prizes.

For all practical purposes it can be said that every sixteenth ticket sold will win a certificate. The principle is the same as that used at the war savings dances during February and March. The sixteen to one ratio of winning is by long odds more favorable than that offered in most raffles.

On Tuesday evening, the Ladies' Auxiliary made plans for the raffle and other regatta activities. Mrs. Roy Pollard, Mrs. C. H. Harris and Miss Audrey Hughes were placed in charge of the preliminary plans for the refreshment booths. Miss Gwen Macdonald will head the trophy committee and will look after the presentation of cups and ribbons. She will be supported by a committee composed of Mrs. Francis Buck, Mrs. Max DePuyffer, Mrs. Monica, Mrs. R. P. Walcott, Mrs. E. Winter and Miss Kay Hill. This year the cups and ribbons are to be presented immediately after the races on the judges' stand.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on Tuesday evening, July 22, in the form of a beach party at the Rotary Beach.

The Auxiliary is also responsible for the billing of out-of-town motorists and drivers during the Regatta and anyone who can assist in this regard should get in touch with members of the executive.

The War Measures Committee has decided that weekly pools would be established for early apples. The pools will be by calendar weeks, terminating on July 19th. After that date, season pools will be established by varieties.

Two Hundred Rotary Officials Hear Outstanding Speakers Address District Assembly

Seven Speakers Emphasize the Ties that Bind the Two Great Democracies—Great Galaxy of Rotary Stars Attend Meeting of Presidents and Secretaries of District 101—Rotarians Have Definite International Responsibility

OUTSTANDING addresses given by leading figures of Rotary International District 101 formed the keynote for the informal group discussions which formed the main part of the Presidents' and Secretaries' district assembly, which opened here on Monday. Nearly two hundred Rotarian officials representing clubs in Alaska, Oregon, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia, heard the various phases of Rotary activity outlined in impressive speeches. Outstanding were the addresses of Vincent Borleske, of Walla Walla, Washington, Immediate Past District Governor, who talked on Club Service, and that of Walter Williams, President of the Seattle Club and a past President of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

Each of the seven morning speakers took the opportunity to emphasize the ties that bind the people of the two great democracies, the British Commonwealth and the United States.

The conference was under the guidance of District Governor W. R. Dowrey, of Vancouver, George Anderson, Secretary of the Kelowna club, acted as conference secretary.

The general arrangements were under the direction of W. H. H. McDougall, local club President. He was assisted by E. T. Abbott, general chairman, and several committees headed respectively by Charles Hubbard, reservations; W. H. Adams, transportation; E. Crawford, war measures; G. H. Hensby, publicity; F. Buckland, reception; and L. Kerry, registration. C. Day acted as song leader, C. Mossop as accompanist, and R. Mathison as sergeant-at-arms.

W. R. Dowrey, in his opening remarks, complimented the Kelowna club on the arrangements it had made for the assembly. It was rather significant that speaker after speaker echoed or amplified his words of commendation, until one could not but form the opinion that the local club had done a good job, and that the remarks were not just idle words of praise.

Mr. Dowrey's remarks were brief. He pointed out that there were over 5,000 clubs, with more than 212,000 members, operating in 73 countries. He emphasized that Rotary International was simply a legislative and advisory body for the clubs to give them a common footing, but in its final analysis each club was strictly autonomous, and thus the strength of the whole organization was the individual members who guided their own club.

RECRUITING CAMPAIGN HITS QUOTA

Army Gets 34,615—15,000 to Navy and Air Force

It was announced Wednesday night that in the recruiting campaign which started on May 12th, 48,000 men volunteered for service in the Canadian army. However, after the medical unit were eliminated the men accepted for service totalled 34,615. In addition over 15,000 men volunteered for the navy and air force during the same period.

In the same announcement it was stated that 400 men of the armored division would be sent to the United States for special training. It is just possible that men of the 9th Armored Regiment may be included in the four hundred.

Rotarian Delegates Praise Organization And Hospitality

District Governor Voices Approval of Visiting Rotarians from Alaska, Washington, Idaho, Oregon and B. C.—Effective Organization Here Makes Assembly Most Successful—Many Delegates Join in Voicing Approval—Tuesday Luncheon Scene of Felicitations

"It has been the finest and most friendly district assembly in many years," W. R. "Dick" Dowrey, District Governor of Rotary District 101, told The Courier in an interview after the final luncheon at the Royal Anne on Tuesday. "The attendance was up over other years, too," he stated. "The hospitality of the citizens of Kelowna and the Rotary Club was exceptionally fine and open. All arrangements were well organized and the entertainments and dinners were most pleasing to all who attended. Many highly complimentary remarks had been voiced by visiting Rotarians and Rotaryans," Mr. Dowrey said.

"We were most favorably impressed with Kelowna as an ideal spot for the district assembly," he continued. "A resolution was adopted here, the District Governor on Tuesday unanimously praising the arrangements and hospitality of Kelowna. Both local Rotarians and citizens spared no effort to make our stay enjoyable in every possible way."

An innovation for district assemblies was the use of identification tags worn by all Rotarians attending the convention, Mr. Dowrey explained. These went a long way towards helping to foster the spirit of good fellowship and friendliness that marks all Rotary gatherings.

This district of the Rotary International No. 101 is the largest both in number of clubs and in area of any in the world-wide organization of Rotary. There were five members of Rotary clubs from Alaska, members from Idaho, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. The purpose of the district assembly here, the District Governor stated, is to give the delegates from the Rotary International District Governors convention, held early in June, an opportunity to carry any new trends in Rotary to the assembled presidents and secretaries of individual clubs. These officers are then able to report to their members. The result is a close knit understanding among all Rotarians.

"This assembly certainly was no holiday for delegates a great part of the time," Mr. Dowrey went on to show. On Monday, the general assembly went into session at 8:30 in the morning and did not break up until 5:30 in the evening. On Tuesday, the meeting began at 7:30 in the morning. Many vital questions of Rotary came before the members, and all had an excellent opportunity to learn much of the plans and purposes of the organization.

"The entertainment of Monday evening was exceptionally good and was most thoroughly enjoyed by all the visitors," Mr. Dowrey emphasized. "The regatta afterwards was also cause for much favorable comment, and the dance in the splendid aquatic club was also very enjoyable."

The final luncheon at 12:15 on Tuesday was held as an informal gathering in the interests of good fellowship and conviviality. There were no featured speakers, but many representatives of clubs said a few words.

John Cauble, pastor from Juneau, Alaska, spoke for the five delegates from the northern territory of the United States. He gave a sure-fire way to capture Oogopogo. "All you need to do is to come up to Alaska and capture some of our 'ice-worms' to bait your hook for your notorious Oogopogo," He said.

Head for Lake

Even Weatherman Is Warm As City Endures Third Hottest Day

Is it Hot? Just ask Dave Chapman, official weather man, and he will tell you it is hot.

So hot in fact that there have been only two days in the past twenty-one years when the thermometer climbed higher than it did on Wednesday.

On Wednesday the official thermometer hit 98; and that is hot in any man's language.

The orchid for the heat record however goes to July 27th, 1934, when the mercury climbed to the record of 101 degrees. July 11th, 1926 ran the record a close second when it touched the even 100 degree mark while Wednesday's figure of 98 has been equalled only once in the twenty-one years, on July 28th, 1934.

The figures of the past seven days show four nineties and two top nineties. That explains why you have been grumpy to your wife and why she has been a little irritable. It explains too why the kids haven't wanted to go to bed and why the Oogopogo has seen more moonlight bathing parties than in any previous time in its century lifespan.

A steady gain was noted on the thermometer since the middle of last week. Tuesday's top figure was a 98, Monday showed a maximum of 95 and Sunday registered 91 degrees.

This heat wave seems to strike the most of us with considerable force, coming as it did after a comparatively cool spring and early summer. Minimum figures are high this year too, giving little respite for the excess warmth during the evening and early morning hours. Wednesday recorded a minimum of 65 degrees, Tuesday showed two degrees less, or 61 and Monday registered a comparatively cool 56.

Figures for the past week show a steady climb on the heat gauge. Wednesday, July 16 ..... 99 65 Tuesday, July 15 ..... 98 61 Monday, July 14 ..... 95 56 Sunday, July 13 ..... 91 55 Saturday, July 12 ..... 88 57 Friday, July 11 ..... 87 54 Thursday, July 10 ..... 83 51

Last year the thermometer climbed to 96 degrees on two occasions, July 12th and August 13th. Two years before it reached 97 degrees on July 16th and 22nd.

A report brought in to the Courier office by the temperature recorder, D. Chapman, showed that from 1912 to 1923 a cool cycle seemed to be in evidence, with readings of 90 being the highest. In 1924 the heat became more noticeable on July 2nd and 3rd with figures of 97 and 98 respectively being recorded. The second real high spot came in 1926 as already described, and then again from 1928 to 1930 maximums of 98, 96 and 97 were listed. The hottest time around 1934 was followed by a drop until 1938 when 97 was the highest temperature.

VERNON HEAT RECORD BROKEN

103 in Northern City Creates Record—Hot Frontier Day

Wednesday was Frontier Day in Vernon; and it was a case of a hot time in the old town. So hot it was, as a matter of fact, that at noon all heat records had been broken.

At noon, the official weather man in Vernon reported that the mercury had climbed to 103 degrees, to break all records. Nor was that all. The glass was still climbing, and the hottest part of the day was still several hours away. It was expected that before the maximum for the day was reached the thermometer would register several degrees higher.

Single Trip Toll Cut to 50 Cents; Three More Trips

Last Trip Now Leaves Kelowna at 2 a.m. and West Side at 2.25 a.m.—Single Trip Fare for Automobiles Reduced From Seventy-Five to Fifty Cents, Including Driver—Changes Follow Long Negotiations Between Kelowna Board of Trade and Department of Public Works—Been Major Objective of Board in Recent Months—Will Benefit Whole Valley

Trade Board Prexy Expresses Appreciation

IMPORTANT changes in the schedule of M.S. Pendozi and in the single trip toll are announced by the Department of Public Works. The Pendozi, commencing Tuesday, July 15th, started to operate on an extended schedule which places the last trip from Kelowna at 2.00 a.m. and the last trip from the west side at 2.25 a.m. Equally as important is the reduction in the single trip toll from seventy-five cents to fifty cents, including driver.

The changes come after a continuous correspondence between the Department and the Kelowna Board of Trade over a period of many months, culminating in recent weeks in correspondence and verbal skirmishes between members of the board on one side and Capt. C. R. Bull, M.L.A., Capt. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, and officials of his department, on the other.

Two weeks ago, unheralded and unsung, an extra trip was added to the schedule, and on Wednesday last, July 9th, again unheralded, the single trip fare was cut by one-third, and on Tuesday, July 15th, it was announced that the Pendozi would operate until the hours mentioned above.

The Board of Trade had advocated the hour schedule adopted and had urged that the single trip fare should be cut from seventy-five cents to twenty-five cents.

Early last winter, the board approached the department on these points. It based its claim for longer hours of service on the fact that the ferry service is an integral part of the provincial highway system; that when it stopped running at night all travel between the north and south ends of the Valley had to be curtailed, and it was in effect the same as a curfew which closed part of the highway system. The board pointed out that there is no alternative route, and that for this reason it should be given special consideration.

In the matter of the toll levied for a single trip, the board argued that it discouraged tourists and created antagonism between the tourists who did come; and for this reason the toll was a definite detriment to Canada's efforts to increase the tourist flow from across the line.

The board also pointed out that there are many residents of the Valley who do not use the ferry enough to purchase commutation tickets but who could not afford the dock and a half for the occasional trip. It argued that the principle was the same as though the people of Vernon were charged one dollar and a half to drive to Armstrong and back.

Some weeks ago, as a result of correspondence on the subject, Capt. C. R. Bull met the board and advanced his point of view. He was

CHAMBERS PROTESTS GAS RULE

Cash and Carry Regulation Hardship for Farmer—Protests to Ottawa

E. J. Chambers, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, on Wednesday took action to protect the Canadian farmer against the hardships imposed by the new gasoline control regulations.

Mr. Chambers wired W. E. Haskins, Secretary of the organization, at Ottawa, to protest immediately against the regulations which will compel the farmer to operate on a cash and carry basis in purchasing gasoline.

Mr. Chambers pointed out that large quantities of gasoline are delivered by the companies to the farmers' tanks, and that it is ridiculous to expect cash to be paid for this gasoline. The farmer must wait until his crop is sold before he is able to pay for it. In some cases, he emphasized, the farmer does not pay for it directly at all, as the payments are arranged through his shipping firm and it, in turn, deducts the amount from the farmer's crop returns when settlement is made.

Mr. Haskins replied by wire that the farmers' position would immediately be placed before the Fuel Controller.

MIND BELONGINGS WHILE BATHING

Local police warn the public of the necessity of taking precautions with valuable personal effects while attending public beaches. A number of thefts have been reported so far this season. It is pointed out that a little care will save bathers considerable loss or inconvenience.

Some weeks ago, as a result of correspondence on the subject, Capt. C. R. Bull met the board and advanced his point of view. He was

One Hundred and Fifty Tons Of Plums Will Be Processed For British Food Ministry

Green and Imperial Gage Plums Only Variety to be Put in SO2 to Order of British Government—B.C. F.G.A. Grades Committee Will Consider Advisability of Asking Government for Extra Consideration This Year to Take Care of Hail-Damaged Fruit—Government Auditor Expected This Month—Good Price for Cots

APPROXIMATELY one hundred and fifty tons of Green A Gage and Imperial Gage plums will be processed for the British Ministry of Food, A. K. Loyd, General Manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., announced Wednesday. This plum deal will follow the same procedure as the British Government used in their purchase of Coast strawberries this spring.

The plums will be parboiled in kettles, preserved with SO2, packed in barrels and delivered at the order of the British Ministry of Food. The plums will be handled in Vernon. While one hundred and fifty tons is the amount mentioned, it is understood that the actual amount pulp ed may be slightly over or slightly under that figure.

The price obtained is entirely satisfactory, Mr. Loyd stated. Only the green gage and the Imperial gage varieties can be used as other varieties were not acceptable to the British Government.

The removal of one hundred and fifty tons of gages from the domestic market should go a long way towards steadying the plum market for the balance of the season.

A government auditor is expected to reach Kelowna about July 22nd to check the operations for the 1940-1941 crop season. Until the audit is made last year's deal cannot be

The B.C.F.G.A. Grades Committee is scheduled to meet on the 18th of this month, Friday, and one of the primary subjects for consideration is the advisability of asking Ottawa to grant a third grade for several varieties of fruit this year.

The recent hail storms throughout a large portion of the Valley have done considerable damage to plums, apricots, peaches, cotons and apples, and a large proportion of these fruits will not be able to qualify for the present grades. On the other hand, a considerable portion might readily be classed in a third grade, did such a thing exist. As far as cots are concerned there is a third grade and this relieved the situation this year.

Whether or not the Grades Committee will ask the government for some extra consideration for hauled fruit this year, is a matter which will receive careful consideration.

Ferry Changes

In this issue an advertisement inserted by the Department of Public Works does much to remove the haze which has obscured the schedule and rate structure of the Westbank-Kelowna Ferry service.

The advertisement states that from July 15th to October 21st the Pendozi will operate on a fifty-minute schedule from six a.m. to 2.00 a.m. from Kelowna. This means that the last trip leaving the west side is 2.25 a.m. The advertisement also modestly announces that the rate for automobiles, including driver, has been reduced from seventy-five to fifty cents.

Some two weeks ago the Pendozi suddenly and unannounced commenced to operate an extra trip, leaving Kelowna at 12.20 instead of 11.30 on her last crossing. Then last Wednesday, again unheralded, the single trip toll was reduced to fifty cents. It was not until the third change came along in the schedule that the Department saw fit to make any public announcement.

Why the Department was so reticent about making the public acquainted with the changes is difficult to understand. Despite the fact that during the past three years the ferry tolls and schedule has been a source of continuous representation by the Kelowna Board of Trade, the only notification of changes the board received was a letter on Tuesday from Premier Pattullo, which stated that the single trip toll would be reduced.

The Kelowna Board of Trade over a long period has been urging the Department of Public Works to provide a longer service and has consistently advocated that the single trip toll should be no more than twenty-five cents. The board took definite exception to the stand taken here a month ago by the Minister of Public Works, who maintained that any tourist should be willing to pay seventy-five cents for the privilege of crossing the lake and enjoying the scenery.

The Board of Trade repeatedly laid its case before Capt. C. R. Bull, M.L.A., and Department officials. Recently representatives of the board interviewed Premier Pattullo and the Minister in Victoria. The board's case was apparently sound as the points advocated by the board have been granted or met in some measure.

The new schedule would seem to meet the needs of the district adequately. The last trip has been set at a time which will meet the requirements of most people and unless the night traffic increases to a marked degree there would seem to be little requirement for a later service than that now provided.

The new single trip toll, while not reduced to the figures advocated by the Board of Trade has nevertheless been reduced and is a step in the right direction. The reduction in toll will tend to curb the resentment and prevent the hostility which the former rate engendered in visitors to this district. It is a step toward the removal of one of those annoyances which discourage travellers from returning or advising their friends to come to this district.

The people of the Okanagan owe a debt of gratitude to the Kelowna Board of Trade which, convinced of the justice of their case, persisted in placing it before governmental officials who control the ferry. Confident that its case was sound, the Board of Trade persevered until the government officials, too, saw the light. Premier Pattullo, the Minister of Public Works and officials of his department, once they saw the justice of the board's arguments, implemented their opinions by increasing the hours and reducing the single trip toll.

The whole Okanagan Valley benefits by these changes. Travel north and south through the Valley will be facilitated and greater intercourse between the communities to the south and to the north will result. Tourists, remembering the Okanagan, will now have no cause to recall it as the place where the highway is put to bed at midnight and they were gouged six-bits for using part of the provincial highway system.

Rotary Assembly

If the remarks of the delegates to the Rotary District 101 assembly here this week is any criterion, the local club did an excellent job of its arrangements. Publicly and privately the hundred-and-fifty odd Presidents and Secretaries and their wives were loud in their praise of the manner in which the local club arranged and carried through its plans. Not a few voiced the opinion that the local assembly was the best organized in many years; and that is no mean compliment when this annual meeting is usually held in cities with many times the population and much superior accommodation to that which Kelowna boasts.

But, if the local Rotary Club received a large measure of praise, the city itself and the citizens came in for their share of commendation. Many of the visitors frequently and uninvited burst into praise of the physical properties of the town, with the City Park and the Aquatic and Bernard Avenue always being in the forefront of the "honorable mentions." Perhaps more important, however, was the general impression created by the people of the town. Rotarians billeted in private homes were generous in their praise of the treatment they received. As one man put it, every person in the town seemed anxious to go out of his way to make the visitors' stay a little more pleasant.

This is actually nothing to pat ourselves on the back about. It is a well-known fact that the people living in this town are proud of it and are anxious that visitors should see its advantages and have a good time here. It is on this foundation that Kelowna's reputation as a friendly city is built; it is the reason that scores and scores of people think kindly of Kelowna and are always happy to return here.

It is, however, a reputation which any organization can do much to mar or to which any individual can easily give a black mark. This week, however, the town and its people apparently gave their usual good co-operation to the local organization which was in the front line and that organization, the local Rotary Club, apparently lived up to the Kelowna reputation for effective organization.

Election Unthinkable

Several straws blowing in the wind would seem to indicate that the King Administration is thinking of an election this fall on the conscription issue. For instance, Mr. King in Vancouver made a veiled suggestion that a general election on the issue of full military conscription may be necessary, if its supporters continue to press for it. The suggestion, in our opinion, will not enhance his prestige in the eyes of the majority of the Canadian public. The idea of another general election, if he seriously entertains it, is completely out of conformity with his oft-repeated proclamation that a passionate desire for the preservation of national unity as an essential foundation for a successful war effort is the lodestar of his policy. He might win an election on the issue of conscription, but he surely cannot imagine that the advocates of full conscription, who will not be confined to the Conservative Party, would not wage a strenuous fight for a program in whose inherent fairness they sincerely believe, and that there would not be left as an aftermath the sort of deep domestic fissure which Mr. King, judged by his professions, so ardently desires to avoid.

The argument stressed above all others by Mr. King and his followers for the purpose of justifying the summary dissolution of Parliament in January 1940 and the general election which followed was that it was in the national interest to have the verdict of the voters before serious hostilities began in Europe. It would be unthinkable, ran the Liberal plea, that when the guns were thundering in Europe and dealing out death to our soldiers, Canada should be plunged into political strife. It is true that today the Canadian army overseas is not yet engaged in any active theatre of war, but it might any day, and at any rate there is a sufficiency of bloodshed between the Ural Mountains and the Atlantic to make the very idea of a revival of domestic political warfare in Canada odious to all save bigotedly partisan minds.

This summer is witnessing what Mr. Churchill would call one of the great climacterics of the war, and, whether the German invasion of Russia succeeds or not, there is obvious an urgent need for an intensification of our national war effort to the utmost limit of our resources. Just the other day Lord Beaverbrook, who must know the realities of the situation, sent a message to Canada emphasizing the clamant necessity for maintaining and increasing the flow of vital war supplies to Britain.

As the directors of our war program, our Ministers are undoubtedly leading laborious days at Ottawa, but if a general election were decreed they would straightway have to abandon their present tasks and go ranging far and wide over the country rebutting the arguments for compulsory service. Will anyone venture to suggest that from such a distraction of ministerial energy our war effort would not suffer seriously, and that it would not create dismay in Britain, where political strife has been effectually banished for the duration of the war? Mr. King, as the chief author of it, would stand so severely condemned before the bar of history that we find it incredible to believe that a politician who is naturally anxious about his place in history seriously contemplates such a cardinal error. A more intelligible interpretation of his utterance is that it was made in the hope of intimidating his opponents to abate their campaign for conscription.

In our view, the proper and wise course for Mr. King is to recognize what is clearly the majority verdict of the Canadian people that he should accept Mr. Churchill's invitation to a conference in London. Happily there are indications that he is veering around in favor of such acceptance. Arrived in Britain, he would become apprised through personal discussions of the full facts about the war situation, and when he returned to Canada he would be in a much better position to gauge what alterations and improvements in Canada's war policy were necessary and to advocate them with informed authority to the Canadian people.

Largest Subscriber To War Loan

In subscribing $120,000,000 to Canada's 1941 $600,000,000 Victory Loan, the life insurance business in Canada becomes the largest single subscriber to each of Canada's three war loans, having made available to the government a total of $180,000,000 to help finance the purchase of tanks, planes, ships, guns and munitions.

In making this announcement respecting the Victory Loan, R. Leighton Foster, K.C., General Counsel for The Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association, revealed that United States' companies operating in Canada had co-operated to the extent of some $35,000,000.

He also pointed out that life insurance companies had not only given tremendous financial support to the Victory Loan Campaign, but they had also made available their entire sales forces to canvass for the loan.

"Once again," stated Mr. Foster, "life insurance, holding in stewardship the savings of 4,000,000 Canadians and representing the last line of defence of 1,000,000 Canadian homes, has demonstrated that it is as vital an economic force in time of war as it is in time of peace. Today, millions of life insurance dollars are fighting dollars which are doing double duty; they are guardians of financial security of free men and women on the home front, while they are helping maintain our democratic way of life by aiding on the war front."

Face And Fill

Those who worried lest this be a year without a summer can now start to worry about what kind of a winter next winter will be.

Two Canadian soldiers escaped from Camp Borden and reached Britain because they could not wait to take part in the Battle of Britain. There are other Canadians who ought to remember that the Battle of Britain will not wait for them.

French Canada and the War

"My people will not only match . . . but endure even greater sacrifices . . . because we have even more at stake."—Premier Godbout.

It is not generally known in this province that about 50,000 French Canadians are already serving in Canada's armed forces. The attitude of the French Canadians has been the subject of much speculation in this district. The following article appeared in the Financial Post last week and throws light upon the matter. It is written by Major G. L. Strange, former wheat king of Canada, now head of research for Searle Grain Co., and author of the recently published book, "Never a Dull Moment." His article follows:

What do the people of the province of Quebec think about the war? What do they think ought to be done? What sacrifices are they ready to make? What do they think about conscription? Many an English-speaking Canadian frequently find French-speaking Canada puzzling. Many are laden with prejudices which color the scant reliable information which they do secure. And for the most, there is a ready assumption that the French Canadian attitude toward the war, conscription and other wartime issues, is today unchanged from what it was in 1917.

I have just travelled through the province. I have been out in the farming community—an opportunity not often enjoyed by English-Canadians.

Most important though, I have just spent some time with about 150 seed growers of Quebec, agricultural experts of the Quebec Government who spend their time going about the farming areas advising on crops, stocks and other farm matters. No body of men so intimately know the "habitant" mind and point of view. Many of them are friends who would tell me nothing but what they earnestly believe to be true.

This was the annual meeting of the Canadian Seed Growers Association held at Oka, P.Q., and was attended—about half and half—by members from Quebec and English-speaking members from Ontario and each of the other provinces of Canada.

Here are a few quotations which I got in talking with French-Canadians. I report only these few samples because their words serve to show how others I talked to are thinking about the war.

"Put in conscription. It is the only fair way. It takes all the young, fit men, rich and poor, from the farm and city alike."

"The volunteer system of enlistment penalizes the patriotic men who enlist and lets the slackers get ahead with good war jobs. Conscription, treating all alike, is the fair thing."

"There are too many old soldiers about who enlisted in the last war and who found the jobs all on their return to encourage our young men to enlist today. But they are patriotic and want to fight and will fight if ALL the fit young men enlist, east and west, English and French are taken together."

"Some say the farmers of Quebec object to conscription. That's not true now. We are just as patriotic as anyone. Our young men fought well in the last war and will do so again if required, and it looks as if they will be. But keep politics out of conscription and out of the war."

"Only conscription will raise enough men for the army. The politicians promised our people 'No Conscription' and it has bewildered many. Explain to our people that their farms, their life, their schools, their churches, that Quebec and the Empire are at stake and they will accept conscription I am quite sure, but keep the politicians away from the people. Let these things be recalled by those they know and trust."

"I guess we must have more men in the army, so put in the compulsory selective draft like in the United States. Only a few will object. I'd like to see several divisions of all French Canadians. You know, we like to be together and sing our own songs on the march."

"I was in the last war and I saw too many men in the hospitals, too many sick and worn out, because they were too old when the army took them in. With conscription only the young and the fit are taken. Our French youths are good fighters and will be glad to help, but you must put in conscription to get all that are required, I guess. It's the same with the English speaking, too, isn't it? I am sure our French people will gladly accept conscription if they are told it is necessary to get the men."

"If our premier Mr. Godbout tells us conscription is necessary, then we'll do what he says. Our people believe in him, you know. He is a very sincere man who knows and loves his French-Canadian people."

"The United States, a big country, and not yet in the war, already has conscription, I read. With Canada already in the war—and up to her neck in it—I guess we should have it too. Our Quebec people are ready for conscription or for anything else needed to beat Hitler, but you must conscript all young men, not just those of Quebec."

French-Canadians are just as willing—perhaps even more willing—than their English-speaking brethren to accept conscription right now and to make all sacrifices that may be required for victory. That is my conclusion from everything I saw, heard and was able to find out.

I did not go to Quebec expecting to find this. Like many others, I had the impression conscription was being deferred by Ottawa because it feared Quebec would oppose. I brought with me the ideas about the French-Canadian attitude to war which I had inherited from the last great war.

I did find, also that during recent weeks when the situation had become increasingly grave, the eagerness Turn to Page 8, Story 1

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 6, 1911

"Work has commenced on construction of the cement sidewalk on Bernard Avenue, from Pendozi Street to Richter Street."

"Mr. S. L. Long has sold the twenty acres he retained last year out of the property which he sold to a syndicate represented by Major Lindsay, and he will remove to Victoria within a few weeks. The buyers are Major Lindsay and Mr. T. W. Stirling. Mr. Long's health has not been of the best for several years past, and he is going down to sea-level on medical advice. The people of the Valley will miss one who furnished the first practical illustration of the fruit-growing possibilities of the bench lands and has converted an arid tract into the show orchard of the district."

Enrolment in the five divisions of the Public School showed a total of 241 pupils during the school year ending in June.

At the High School entrance examinations, held in Kelowna under the presidency of Miss E. McNaughton, B.A., the number of candidates in attendance was as follows: Kelowna, 14; Black Mountain, 2; East Kelowna, 1; Ellison, 2; Mission Creek, 1; Woods Lake, 2; total, 22.

The first annual tournament of the Okanagan Lawn Tennis Association was held on the grounds of the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club from June 27th to 30th, inclusive. Five events were included in the program, men's singles, men's doubles, ladies' singles, ladies' doubles and mixed doubles, with a total of seventy-five entries. The winner of the men's singles was Dodwell, of Summerland, who defeated R. H. Stubbs in the final. Dodwell also won the men's doubles, in partnership with Theed, and the mixed doubles, in company with Mrs. May. The ladies' singles was won by Mrs. Simpson, and the ladies' doubles by Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. May.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

"One hundred and seventy-six Kelownians took advantage of the excursion by the s.s. 'Okanagan' to Penticton on Dominion Day. The Kelowna baseball team went down to play an exhibition game with the Penticton nine and succeeded in shutting them out by a score of 4-0. A scratch lacrosse team lost to the Penticton Elks by 9-2. Wet weather considerably marred the pleasure of the outing."

"A number of winsome young ladies arrived from the Coast on Saturday to engage in fruit picking in the district. Judging by the good looks of most of them, they will find the chivalrous men of the orchard eager to move fruit ladders and perform other services for them."

W. R. Glenn & Son announce that they have sold their harness and saddlery business to A. Williams, previously of Lethbridge, Alberta.

Rev. Frank Stanton, the new Methodist minister at Rutland, served with the 47th Battalion in the Great War, and was awarded the Military Medal for gallantry in action at Cambrai, in 1918.

The Okanagan Valley Lawn Tennis Tournament was held on the courts of the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club from Tuesday, June 28, to Saturday, July 2. The weather was propitious on the first two days, but a change came on Thursday and heavy rain on Friday interfered materially with play, without damping the enthusiasm of the competitors, however. The winners of the various events: Men's singles, Capt. Cardinal, Vancouver; men's doubles, Capt. Cardinal and McT. Cowan, Vancouver; ladies' singles, Mrs. S. Seon, Vernon; ladies' doubles, Mrs. Belson and Mrs. Lyell, Kelowna; mixed doubles, G. E. Seon and Mrs. H. G. M. Wilson, Kelowna; men's doubles, handicap, J. C. Anderson and R. G. Russell, Kelowna; mixed doubles, handicap, Capt. Icke and Mrs. Burdekin, Kelowna.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 2, 1931

First class honors (80 per cent and over) were obtained in the Kelowna High School examinations by Jean Tallyour, Anthony Stubbs and Marjorie Stiell.

Kelowna players won all the open events, with the exception of the junior singles, at the Okanagan Valley Tennis Championships, held on the courts of the Vernon Country Club the previous week. Unfortunately, rain stopped play on Friday morning and prevented completing the finals on Saturday afternoon, but the Vernon Tennis Club came to the rescue and gave the use of their courts, enabling the majority of the events to be concluded. The men's doubles and mixed doubles were finished at Kelowna on Sunday, the finalists being all Kelowna players. The winners of the events were: Men's singles, W. J. Logie; ladies' singles, Miss J. Pease; men's doubles, W. J. Logie and A. E. Hill; ladies' doubles, Mrs. Tallyour and Miss J. Pease; mixed doubles, W. J. Logie and Mrs. Tallyour; junior singles, boys, J. Kennedy, Salmon Arm.

Crop estimates for 1931, issued by the Horticultural Branch, Provincial Department of Agriculture, at Vernon, forecasted a decrease of 27 1/2 per cent in the apple crop in the Okanagan Horticultural District, as compared with 1930. However, against an estimated production of 3,589,075 boxes in 1930, the crop actually ran far in excess, the yield being 4,147,426 boxes. For 1931, the estimate was 3,003,305 boxes.

A deputation from the Kelowna Board of Trade, consisting of G. A. Melkie and Capt. Horn, interviewed the executive of the Okanagan Board of Trade on June 22nd to solicit support for the eastside road project between Kelowna and Naramata. After an hour's discussion of the subject, a resolution was passed, requesting extension of the hours of ferry service to include from 7 a.m. until 11.00 p.m., and reduction of the charge for an automobile and driver from 75 cents to 25 cents. (Ten years later, the charge remains the same despite persistent hammering for reduction by the Valley Boards of Trade.) The Penticton Board members agreed that the eastside road would have to come some day, but they considered other uncompleted projects, such as the Hope-Princeton road, should take precedence in claims for public expenditure.

DURING THE PAST COUPLE of weeks I have heard considerable discussion as to why the promotion lists of the elementary schools are not published. The point seems to have created some interest and so here is an attempt at an explanation. It will be probably clear as mud but it may give some sort of satisfactory answer to those who hold that the old system is the better. (And who is to say they are wrong?) . . . .

r p m

THE AIM OF MODERN elementary education is to promote well-rounded child development, embracing physical, social, intellectual, and moral growth. In such a program the true curriculum consists of experiences, direct and vicarious. Subject-matter is neither the curriculum nor an end in itself. Its function is to make direct experiences meaningful and satisfying and to provide the setting for vicarious experiences. Growth must be continuous and unhindered by artificial obstacles, but it must be recognized that the rate of growth or development varies greatly from one individual to another. . . . In a modern program of education a constant effort must be made to adjust the curriculum to the needs of each child and to promote the development of each at the best rate suited to him; there should be neither forcing nor external retarding in the process. This means that a new type of organization, based on scientific and intelligent pupil-grouping and curriculum adjustment, has become necessary . . . .

IT IS NO LONGER considered good practice to assign the mastery of a fixed body of subject-matter to all pupils at a given age or in a given time. This was the procedure that gave rise to grades, as we have known them, and the traditional practice has been to make the mastery of such subject-matter the condition on which the pupil could continue with his age-group. Thus the word grade has come to connote subject-matter mastery and not development in its true sense. . . . Grade promotion suggests that growth is irregular and intermittent and dependent upon the mastery of external material. This is entirely at variance with the modern philosophy of education. In fact the word grade as it has been understood in the past should disappear from our educational thinking and vocabulary. In its place should be substituted the word year and the pupil should be referred to as of the first year, second year, etc., instead of as of the first grade, second grade, etc. Carefully kept school records show at what rate the pupil is capable of advancing and to what point he has advanced in each aspect of his development. It is the business of the teacher to know all these things about each pupil and to group them and adjust the curriculum in such a way that appropriate experiences are provided for each, and that each progresses according to his ability to whatever height he is capable of. The popular conception of all pupils in a given class being taught the same thing at the same time is only true of classrooms conducted by teachers who are living in the past so far as educational philosophy and practice are concerned . . . .

IN VIEW OF THE foregoing it is obvious that promotion lists have lost their meaning and, if published, would be misunderstood. In the vast majority of cases the pupil's best interest demands that he be kept with his age-group. His development, whether slow, average, or rapid in rate, is continuous. It is to be likened to the motion of a quietly flowing stream rather than to the movements of a kangaroo. Streams flow at varying rates, conditioned by factors beyond our control; likewise pupils develop at varying rates, but continuously as the stream flows. . . . Unfortunately, our educational facilities are yet too limited to permit of the complete implementing of our philosophy and, for varying reasons, there are a few pupils who cannot be kept in their age-groups. The publication of promotion lists cannot avoid drawing attention to such cases and the effect upon them is detrimental. For the other pupils such lists indicate no more than that Monday follows Sunday in a well-ordered week.

IF THERE IS ONE THING which consistently gives me a pain it is the press censorship directives. Every so often an envelope arrives marked "personal and confidential" and suggests that such and such a thing should not be published. The sad part of it is that nine times out of ten no newspaper editor would think of publishing the point in question as it usually has no news value whatsoever. . . . The Courier has been gently spanked twice in this regard. Not so long ago we referred to the launching of H.M.C.S. Kelowna and named the port at which the ceremony took place. A few days later we had a very nice—I mean just that "very nice"—letter from the censor chiding us for disclosing the port of launching. Now the strange thing about this is that we had searched carefully through the directives—there are about a hundred of them—to see if there was any suggestion such a port should not be named. We were hesitant about naming the port but could find no suggestion that there was any restriction. And the censor admitted there was no such directive. The point here, then, is that had we been left to our own good judgment we would not have named the port but, following the censor's directives, we were convinced it was quite okay. . . . As a matter of fact, it would seem rather silly, the whole thing, what? Does anyone for a minute think that Hitler finds it necessary to read The Courier to find out that corvettes are being built at . . . pardon me! . . . "a west-coast port"? That is just a little too much for anyone to swallow. . . . But the story is not yet ended. The Courier was gently spanked for mentioning that H.M.C.S. Kelowna was launched at a certain west coast port. And last week one of the Vancouver papers carried a long story about a shipbuilding firm turning out corvettes and other types and even mentioned the certain corvettes built there! How come, Mr. Censor? Or is there a hair-splitting difference? . . . . But the censor's directives are even sillier than that. Take, for instance, number 58. It suggests that the Canadian units overseas should not be mentioned by name. They each have a certain geographical designation such as "a Western Canadian regiment" or an "Eastern Ontario regiment." Anyway you are not to use their names. But every day the C.B.C. carries programs which clearly indicate the units of the men who participate in the program. The assumption presumably is that enemy agents read the newspapers but do not listen to radio programs. . . . It was mentioned that The Courier had been gently spanked on two occasions. Once about the launching of the Kelowna and the other time was when we published the story of the trial of a man charged with a breach of the Defence of Canada Regulations. That trial caused considerable interest up and down the Valley and there were a thousand and one rumors about it. The story was published in The Courier before the censor advised us it should not be published. But it was already out. And to good purpose we think, because it gave the correct version and put the quietus on a good many unfounded rumors which were doing more harm than the correct story ever could. . . .

JUNIOR BAND MAY DISBAND UNLESS HELPED

Cannot Carry on Under Present Setup—School Board
Unable to Assist

The fate of the Kelowna Junior Band apparently hangs in the balance and, unless some public assistance is forthcoming, the organization taken under the wing of a service club, the organization will be forced to disband.

Officials of the Band Association feel that the situation is not generally appreciated by the public. They believe that the Junior Band is serving a necessary function in the community life and that it is being done to the general satisfaction of most citizens.

On the other hand, since the outbreak of war, the casual revenues upon which the band depended have shrunk considerably.

"The public does not realize that there is a certain definite overhead which must be met," Ben Hoy, Chairman of the Junior Band Association, stated last week. "There are certain definite outlays which must be made, and approximately thirty dollars a month in addition to our present revenues must be found. This is not a large amount, if the band serves any useful purpose. On the other hand, if this amount were available, the quality of the band would improve undoubtedly and its service to the community would be greatly enhanced."

There was some hope that the organization might be taken under the wing of the School Board, and the School Trustees were approached unofficially in this regard. However, the matter was considered by the trustees at their meeting last Wednesday, and a letter explaining the situation was forwarded to Mr. Hoy.

Mr. Hoy's letter to the trustees and their reply follow:

Kelowna, July 8th, 1941.

To the Kelowna Board of School Trustees,

Kelowna, B. C.

As Chairman of the Kelowna Junior Band Association, I am writing to you unofficially to inquire into the possibilities of the Kelowna School Board granting further assistance to the Kelowna Junior Band.

Our Association appreciates very much the many kind favors extended by the Board to the Band in the past. These have been very helpful to us in bringing the Band to its present standard; but we realize that for the Band to continue to progress and carry on the good work it has accomplished in a few years a more permanent type of support must be secured.

The present set-up is not satisfactory, and I am in doubt as to how much longer the Band can carry on. Therefore, I am writing to inquire if there is any provision under the School Act whereby we could arrange to at least pay the Bandmaster a small monthly salary.

Any suggestions or advice that you can give to me will be appreciated and may help to solve what has already become an acute problem.

BEN HOY, Chairman,

Kelowna Junior Band Association.

Kelowna, July 10, 1941.

Mr. Ben Hoy,

Chairman, Kelowna Junior Band.

Your letter of July 8th was read and considered at the regular monthly meeting of the trustees held last evening, and I was directed to advise you that there is most unfortunately, no provision under the School Act whereby the School Board could grant your association financial assistance. The trustees are fully alive to the importance of the Kelowna Junior Band as one of the amenities in the community life, as well as providing a valuable training for the younger generation in the appreciation of good music, and they realize the urgency of some form of financial assistance to obviate the possibility of a collapse in this organization.

The trustees have, in the past, done everything in their power to help you and are anxious and willing to continue to do so.

It would appear to the trustees that there is a deplorable lack of interest and apathy on the part of the general public as to the work being carried out and the need for continuance of this excellent organization, possibly due to lack of understanding as to the exact status and financial set-up. We believe that the public's interest must be aroused to the point where they will impress upon the proper authorities the desirability of maintaining the Junior Band as an active body. It is freely admitted that we have, in your present organization, a group of musicians with a capable conductor whose work should be encouraged, and it would be very regrettable if the organization broke up after they have already proved their capabilities and unquestionably have made themselves acceptable to the public.

We think this is a matter where public support should be enlisted to make representations, and help financially and morally, to see that the good work accomplished by the Band shall be continued.

E. W. BARTON, Secretary,

Kelowna Board of School Trustees.

MISSION MOURNS DEATH OF MRS. HAVERFIELD

Active in Community Work—
Willing Supporter of Church
Endeavors

It came as a great shock to the residents of Okanagan Mission when they heard of Mrs. B. T. Haverfield's sudden passing early Wednesday, July 9th. Since the first came to reside here in 1923 she was active in all matters connected with St. Andrew's Church. When the Guild started in 1925 she was elected Treasurer. Since then she had held the offices of President and Vice-President. She was also President of the Altar Guild for many years. For nine years she ran a very successful flower show in her own grounds, for the benefit of St. Andrew's Guild.

As recently as last month a Guild week was held at her home, but, owing to ill health, she was unable to attend.

Any organization that appealed for her help met with a ready response. She will be greatly missed by her wide circle of friends in the district, whose sympathy goes out to Mr. Haverfield, Kitty and Joyce.

Mrs. D. Ellis, who for the past year has been residing at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Murdoch, received word of the death of her husband, Mr. Danvers Ellis, on July 7th, in England.

A joint memorial service was held in St. Andrew's Church, Okanagan Mission, on Thursday, July 10, at 9 a.m., for Mrs. Haverfield and Mr. Danvers Ellis. Rev. F. Henderson officiated.

The annual school meeting was held at the Okanagan Mission school on Saturday, July 12. Eleven people were present.

Mr. Kuipers was elected chairman, and Mr. Middlemass, secretary. Mr. Cohen proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Middlemass for his work in tidying the school lawns.

A special general meeting will be held within three days after the school opens, if more than 80 children are present.

Miss Mary Bull has returned from the Coast and is spending the summer with Capt. and Mrs. C. R. Bull at Okanagan Mission.

Mrs. E. Munroe (nee Dorothy Apsey) was the guest of honor at a shower given by Mrs. Farris, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. McKenzie, in the garden of the Bellevue Hotel. The presents were contained in a decorated wheelbarrow. A large number of her friends were present, and she was the recipient of many useful gifts.

Mr. E. Munroe arrived in Okanagan Mission from McBride on Thursday last to join his wife. They are spending a holiday at the home of Mrs. Munroe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Apsey, Okanagan Mission.

Miss Joyce Ford left for Victoria last week.

Miss Vaughan-Jones had as her guest last week-end Mr. Harold Dew, of Vancouver.

Mrs. Bradley, accompanied by her son, daughter, and nephew, Keith Young, left for Lake Louise and the Columbia ice fields, on Tuesday. They have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Young, Okanagan Mission, for the past few weeks.

Mr. Frank Marchbank left for Nelson on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunlop, accompanied by their sons, Ian and Eric, also by Pte. Austin Willett, had a few days fishing at Oyama Lake last week.

Rifleman Austin Willett, of the D.C.O.R., has been visiting at the home of his parents for the past ten days.

The Royal Life Saving Society's B.C. examiner, E. Kelter, of Vancouver, passed Kathleen Sealy for the Society's intermediate certificate and the bronze medallion examinations, at the Kelowna Aquatic Club, on July 8. One test included various methods of resuscitation of the apparently drowned, as well as practical exhibitions of saving lives of the drowning. Cameron Wilkinson deputized as the rescued subject.

FLOWER AND COOKERY CONTESTS FOR WESTBANK

Women's Institute Plans Double
Affair for August—Big Dance is Planned

Plans to hold a flower show and cake-baking contest early in August were made at the June meeting of Westbank Women's Institute, which had been postponed from the regular day until July 8, and was then held at the camp home, on the beach, of Mrs. D. Gellatly. Mrs. A. C. Hoskins, the president, was in the chair, and fifteen members and visitors attended.

The competition of Red Cross work at the forthcoming Vancouver exhibition was discussed. These classes in knitting and plain sewing are open to Red Cross workers, and it was finally decided that Westbank W.I. should compete in both.

Canning for the Red Cross has begun here, several ladies meeting at the home of Mrs. T. B. Reece to do cherries. Donations of sugar are needed, and already homes have offered the use of their canning outfits and their kitchens.

A quilt, finished by W.W.I. and given to that organization by Miss Gowen, V.O.N., was drawn for at the meeting. The winning quilt, being held by Mrs. D. Gellatly. Some $10.00 was netted for the venture, by this means. The quilt will be treasured by its new owner, as it was made by the late Mrs. W. J. Stevens, a past-president and much loved member of Westbank's Women's Institute.

Mrs. Reece donated a war-savings stamp at the meeting, and each one present was requested to search for

GAGNON ADDS THREE MORE APARTMENTS

City Grants Permission to In-

ment Block

J. M. Gagnon, building contractor, has written the City Council asking permission to increase the rear section of his new apartment house by five feet as this would permit him to have three two-room suites in this section. The request was considered by the Council Monday night and granted.

The apartment being built by Mr. Gagnon is at the corner of Pender and Harvey. Originally it was to have been two stories but the alteration will make it a three story building.

Aldermen who studied the proposed change stated that as far as they could ascertain it met with all the requirements of the building, fire and zoning bylaws, and on this basis the Council agreed to issue a

CITY TO HOLD P.G.E. BONDS

The City Council has decided that it will not sell the P.G.E. bonds it is holding in its sinking fund at the present prices. On the other hand, it is estimated that there would be a loss of about $2,000. Consequently, it has been decided that the bonds will not be sold.

V-60-41KELOWNA SEA CADET CORPS "Grenville"

The Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps, "Grenville," returned on Monday from a very enjoyable and instructive two weeks in camp. The camp was held at Okanagan Centre at the splendid camp site again so kindly loaned by George Gibson.

Acting Commanding Officer W. Charman was in charge, assisted by Warrant Officer M. Drinkwater. During the first week Ray Stone kindly helped in lieu of Warrant Officer F. Lloyd, who was unable to be present until the second week.

The Cadets received instructions in general seamanship, boat work, drill, target practice and messenger service. The latter subject being taken up in order to train the boys in A.R.P. work. Sergeant Buck also kindly came to camp one day to lecture on anti-gas for the same purpose.

On Thursday, July 10th, Lt.-Col. Sutton, Commanding Officer of the Vernon Camp, held an inspection of the Corps. He expressed his pleasure at the smartness and discipline of the Cadets and also the splendid location of the camp and its clean, orderly appearance. On Friday, the Cadet Corps was invited to the Vernon Camp on a tour of inspection. Transportation was supplied by the army. On arrival at Vernon the boys were divided into four parties. Each party was then taken in tow by an officer detailed by Lt.-Col. Sutton opposed to any changes at the present time. A sharp but friendly battle resulted, with the member of the Legislature making a valiant but lone stand against the combined and unanimous opinion of the entire Council of the Board of Trade.

Shortly following this, Capt. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, attended a hurried caucus. Works, representative meeting of the general membership of the board. Previously, the Minister had expressed his personal opinion as being in favor of a twenty-four hour service and no tolls.

At the meeting, however, he argued that few, if any, changes could be made and advanced the thought that any tourist should be willing to pay twenty-five cents for the privilege of crossing the lake. The scenery alone was worth it, he maintained.

Members of the board disagreed with the Minister, and again a sharp but entirely friendly verbal battle resulted.

The board reviewed the whole situation in a brief which was forwarded to the Minister in Victoria. In three days a petition, signed by over eight hundred responsible citizens of the west side of the lake as well as of Kelowna, was framed and was presented by representative of the board to Premier Pattullo and Capt. Leary, in Victoria. The local delegation was received cordially, and Premier Pattullo indicated that he believed there was some justification for the board's stand. The series of schedule changes followed.

"It is naturally most gratifying to us that the Government has seen fit to implement our suggestion," R. C. Rutherford, President of the Kelowna Board of Trade, said on Tuesday.

"I would like to emphasize, however, that this is no 'Kelowna concession.' The steps announced will bring this service near to that provided by other ferries and will be of benefit not only to every resident of the Okanagan Valley but to the people of the entire province. The fact that this Okanagan Highway is one of the main north and south roads in the province must not be lost sight of.

"However, the Government has accepted our arguments and we are naturally pleased that the district will receive a better service and one more reasonably priced.

"It is particularly gratifying that the discussions were conducted with the friendliest feeling on all sides. It is true there were sharp discussions, but there was no trace of bitterness shown by any party throughout these discussions."

If a request for a third grade for apples is made, it would present the unusual spectacle of the industry changing its stand from wondering what it would do with the crop this year one month, to asking for special consideration to assist the marketing of a portion of a crop the next month.

"The matter of assistance to hauled orchards is in itself a point for debate. In former years has been considered an act of God and no notice has been taken of it. This year, however, the amount of hail damage is so serious that the very size of the proportion demands consideration.

As an indication of the extent of the damage it is pointed out that unofficial estimates in Sumner indicate that eighty per cent of the crops were damaged and at least twenty per cent of them were only fit for jam. The same authority estimates that at least forty per cent of the prunes in that district are a total loss and forty to fifty per cent of the apples were damaged.

The early apples are moving satisfactorily. There is not sufficient to meet the demand at the present time. Early varieties here are a trifle late as the wet weather retarded the growth. The warm weather of the past week is, however, bringing them on rapidly.

While the early varieties here are late the reverse is true in Ontario, where early varieties are just about ready for market.

Cots in the southern district are just about finished and the orchards along Okanagan Lake are now in full production. A fairly decent price has been obtained for the hauled cots shipped as No. 3 grade, 65 cents having been obtained to date for 30's, 70 cents for 28's and 80 cents for 1's.

The eighty cents price is about equal to a thirty-five cent price in Washington. Many cots are available across the border at thirty-five cents and Canadian wholesalers can bring them in, pay duty and the freight and have a laid-down price of eighty cents.

Twenty-five mixed cars, approximately, are leaving the Valley daily and rolling to the coast or prairie markets.

The cherry deal is about over except in the Kootenays and at Creston. Cantaloupes are beginning to move from the southern areas.

Peaches have appeared but will not move in any volume for another week. The dump duty on peaches went into effect on July 12th.

and shown over the camp. Later, they were supplied with refreshments at the Salvation Army camp. The boys were then taken to witness the retreat ceremony and before returning to camp were taken to the gas chamber and treated to a dose of tear gas.

The Corps thoroughly enjoyed a very interesting and instructive tour of the Vernon and the Commanding Officer expressed his thanks to Lt.-Col. Sutton who so kindly made the trip possible.

The committee and officers of the boys wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped to make the camp a success by donations, loan of cars and so many other little ways.

MANY FACTORS CONTRIBUTE TO VEG. SURPLUS

Increased Acreage, Ideal Weather and Reduced Markets Brings Inevitable Results

"When talking of surplus crops it is well to look at all conditions," L. R. Stephens, member of the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board, stated on Wednesday. "When one considers all the circumstances it is no wonder that there are surpluses of some lines this year."

"Take cabbage, carrots and lettuce, for instance. Last year the prairie crop was a failure. Ontario had no crop and the coast crop was small. The result was we found a ready market for what we had."

"But this year things are different. To start with there is a greatly increased acreage both here and at the coast. The weather has been ideal and the result has been that all producing areas have had big crops. The prairies have had good crops, also. It naturally follows that with more stuff to sell and less places to sell it, that there are surpluses. But, mark you, even at that, we have sold more this year than last year, despite the difficulties."

"As far as potatoes are concerned, it should be remembered that the coast had no export last year and the potatoes on hand are last year's crop and many of them are culls."

"Except that there was a carryover last year the coast acreage has increased thirty per cent this year, if you can feature it," Mr. Stephens said.

GROWERS AND PICKERS ASKED TO REGISTER

Employment Office Here is to Facilitate Handling of Harvest

Three Employment Service of Canada offices are now available in the Okanagan Valley to assist in the handling of both growers and pickers. Offices have been in operation in Kelowna and Penticton, and this week a third office was opened in Vernon to help facilitate the handling of this year's fruit and vegetable crops.

The Kelowna office is located at 229A Bernard Avenue, in the premises of the Provincial Relief Inspector, A. W. Gray is in charge. All branches of industry will be served, and workers and employers are requested to register with the local employment office.

BRENT'S CREEK DAMAGE CAUSES CONCERN TO CITY

Glenmore Denies Liability—City Names Committee to Investigate

Glenmore Council denies all responsibility for the water which comes down Brent's Creek and does considerable damage within the Kelowna City limits. A letter from R. Corner, Municipal Clerk of Glenmore, was received by the City Council on Monday night.

Mr. Corner stated that the Glenmore Council had considered the matter and could not see that it was in any way responsible for the conditions existing on this small creek.

Brent's Creek enters the city limits from Glenmore and meanders through the northern section of the town to reach Okanagan Lake near the C.N.R. wharf. It is stated that a few years ago the creek was always dry by the end of May, but due to irrigation water which Glenmore puts into the creek, it runs full of water the summer now and the ditch is not big enough to carry both the irrigation water and the natural flow.

The Glenmore letter stated that 29.5 acres within the city were irrigated from the creek and 33.4 acres in Glenmore.

After a short discussion in which it was brought out that Glenmore was using the creek to drain low-lying orchard land, a committee of Aldermen Sutherland, Jones and Pettigrew was named to inquire further into the matter.

Club President," pointed out that world affairs had changed drastically since the last assembly, which had been in Portland a year ago.

At that time the United States was treading the narrow path of strict neutrality and Canadians were wondering whether Britain could go on after the fall of France. Now, the United States to all intents and purposes is in the war, and we are confident that Britain is rapidly gaining control of the situation and that the issue is no longer in doubt.

Rotarians have a very definite international responsibility, Dr. Irving claimed. They should be men who are looking beyond the present conflict and are studying what is going to happen after the war.

The speaker explained that man fighting against nation, but rather a principle of development fighting a principle of retrogression. Many changes are bound to come, must come, following peace, and we should be studying those changes and how our present system can be changed to bring peace and happiness to all people.

A. Patterson, Secretary of the Portland club and a past President of the Club Secretary in considerable detail.

Vincent Borleske, of Walla Walla, Immediate Past District Governor, gave one of the outstanding addresses of the morning session. He recalled how a year ago, when he had visited the Canadian clubs, every club was singing "There Will Always Be an England" as a means of expressing their confidence that the forces of liberty and right would prevail.

The individual members of Rotary must be prepared to accept responsibility, regardless of the past, and the only way to do this is to be useful, and the only point in being a Rotarian is to be useful, and the willingness to make personal sacrifices in order to accept responsibilities is the hallmark of Rotary.

The reason the world is in the mess it is in is that ideals were too long neglected; we had forgotten the things of life which really matter. There had been too much sitting back and letting the other fellow do things. Rotary should be prepared to give a lead in things. Too long many have been sitting back and watching the encroachments on liberty and the rights of the individual. Every time a law is passed the individual loses. Rotarians should be prepared to do what is right and to show that laws are not made in a selfish way based on equality, liberty and understanding. It is the responsibility of Rotary to show the way.

Walter Williams, President of the Seattle club and a past President of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, spoke on "Vocational Service," a subject which has confused more than one Rotarian. Mr. Williams' address was acclaimed as the outstanding feature of the subject heard by any Rotarian present. He discussed employer-employee relationships, competitor relationships, customer relationships and the many angles of business life. He maintained that the other fellow was not such a bad sort once you got to know him, and he quoted several personal experiences to illustrate his point.

He discussed employer-employee relationships, competitor relationships, customer relationships and the many angles of business life. He maintained that the other fellow was not such a bad sort once you got to know him, and he quoted several personal experiences to illustrate his point.

Community service should not be underestimated, as it is the basis of all communities which build the nation, and the direction in which the community grows indicates the mode of life the nation will follow.

Alex. McFarlane, a past District Governor and a past Director of Rotary International, discussed "International Service," and said much of the trouble in the world today could be traced to lack of thinking by the individual. He emphasized that it was not the big things which made trouble between people, but it was the small petty things which developed national misunderstanding and through this misunderstanding trouble arose.

He illustrated his point by discussing the Canadian Foreign Exchange Control Board, which had been misunderstood by the United States and grossly misrepresented. He urged that, as part of the international service policy of Rotary, individual members should understand these things and give the correct picture to others.

Rotary had a definite responsibility as an international organization to endeavor to understand the problems of other nations and to interpret those problems to other people. Understanding is the vital necessity between people today.

Following luncheon at the United Church Hall, the assembly broke up into groups to discuss various phases of Rotary activity.

An informal dinner was held at the Aquatic Club under the direction of W. H. H. McDougall, President of the Kelowna club. Rev. E. E. Brown, of Vancouver, was the speaker.

On Tuesday morning the presidents held a breakfast meeting at the Royal Anne, and the secretaries met at the Aquatic Club. District business was conducted at a general meeting at the I.O.O.F. Hall during the morning, and all delegates attended the regular meeting of the Kelowna club at noon. This was the final event of the assembly.

COUNCIL TO INSPECT PRIVY

Rotary is Ideals Put Into Action Says Dr. E. Braden to Rotarians

Former Kelowna Minister Principal Speaker at Rotary Dinner at Aquatic Club—Visitors Entertained by Regatta and Dance

"ROTARY is idealism in action," Rev. E. Braden, a director of the Vancouver Rotary Club, told 250 Rotarians and Rotaryans at the Aquatic Club dinner on Monday night. "Life holds much for us if we can retain the power to translate idealism into action. There is danger in all our uplift organizations that in some way they fail to get out and put into action the ideals for which they stand. Too often we are long on ideals and short on action," he warned.

Dr. Braden's address was the highlight of the dinner at the Aquatic Club. It was followed by a miniature regatta staged by members of the Ogoogo Swim Club and a Rotary dance.

Dr. Braden spoke at length upon the world of today, with its burdens, its pressures, its temptations, and its opportunities for the men of Rotary by their wives and their homes.

"We are living in days that are hard and long, at least they should be long and hard. We are all bearing heavy burdens, and these times at least we should be. Not only do the problems and burdens of the present lie upon our shoulders, but those of the future must also be faced with understanding. I am further pressed, however, by the fact that the present is playing its part in the world of today. In all my associations with Rotary I have been impressed not only by the fine type of man I have met, but by the fact that they have opened their homes and their lives to me. In this difficult world, it is a great privilege to turn home, tired and worn with care to a home and the wonder of a woman's love. Home is a place of strength and inspiration in these times of trouble."

The speaker stressed that in his associations with Rotary he had found the joy of fellowship, the privilege of meeting people who have opened their homes and their lives to him. In Canada and the United States, in Northern Ireland, Scotland, England and France he had been privileged to know great and good fellowship. In many ways that are quiet, he said, in which Rotary is playing its part in the world of today. In all my associations with Rotary I have been impressed not only by the fine type of man I have met, but by the fact that they have opened their homes and their lives to me. In this difficult world, it is a great privilege to turn home, tired and worn with care to a home and the wonder of a woman's love. Home is a place of strength and inspiration in these times of trouble."

He told of a mine he visited in California that has been producing gold since the early days, yet he said, this mine produces only a single year, more mineral than it yielded in its entire history before. "There are still greater values in life. We must hold to the greatness of faith. It is part of the heritage of the past and a part of our hearts. There will be order from chaos and life is laid over death. We must have faith in other people. Some day we may look back upon all the nations of the earth being laid into the glory of the future. It is in our power to bring peace and righteousness to the world."

Walter Williams, American visitor, rose to speak upon Dr. Braden's address. "I have given you some pretty fine reflections of our program today, and I think I speak of the feeling of the visitors here when I think the fine people of Kelowna for the swell job they have done. Anyone who has had anything to do with organizing an affair of the magnitude of this assembly knows just how much planning and hard work has to be done to make it a success such as this has been. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the very fine and pleasurable time we are having here."

W. H. McDougall, President of the local club, acted as toastmaster. In a few welcoming remarks he expressed the pleasure of the Kelowna people in having their city chosen as the assembly city this year. "We welcome especially," he said, "those of you from across the border. We value your friendship most highly. We hope you have been comfortable here and now that you have come here, many for the first time, we hope you will return often."

Gordon Herbert drew attention to the oil painting of Queen Elizabeth which hung at one end of the hall. He explained that it was the work of Mrs. Percy Dunn (Miss Fanny Ogden) who had graciously offered to give the painting to some Rotary club to raise for war charity purposes. Mr. Herbert expressed the hope that whatever club undertook the project, it would receive the full support of the other clubs of the district. He then presented the eight or fifteen thousand with this picture.

The skirl o' the pipes and the beat o' the drums of the Kelowna Canadian Legion Pipe Band captured the attention of the Rotarians and their ladies later in the evening. The pipe music met with applause and appreciation.

Bruce Paige's water ski jump behind the fast launch of G. Finch was perhaps the major attraction of the regatta put on during the evening by the Ogoogo Swimming Club. Diving by Alice Thomson, Dot Smith Betty Runcie, Bill Rawlins and Malcolm Chapin, and a tumbling act by Wendell, Joe, Alroy and Polly Schwab, of Rutland, represented the Kelowna Pro-Rec centre, drew about equal attention of the appreciative audience.

Joe Capozzi's four man crew of Bob Davis, Harold Capozzi and Phil Weddell stroked to a length and a half victory over the Kelowna Pro-Rec centre, drew about equal attention of the appreciative audience.

PEACHLAND POWER PLANT USES LESS WATER

New Nozzle Cuts Consumption — Plan Fruit Canning

Less than half the usual amount of water is being required to run the power plant as a result of the installation of the new nozzle. Council J. H. Wilson stated at the regular meeting of the Municipal Council held on July 9. This small or 2 1/2-inch nozzle uses one and three-quarters inches of the total valve area of six inches, which means that much less water is now required to run the power plant than when the larger nozzle was used.

The revenue for electric light was less this year in June than in 1940, Clerk C. C. Ingalls stated, and with the new daylight saving, he felt the revenue for the summer months would be still more reduced.

If Sutherland was given permission to cut down a number of acacias which were interfering with his orchard.

An offer by F. Kolemboch for the former Suddaby place was not accepted, as the required down payment of half the purchase price had been set for all municipal properties.

The municipal office is to be closed from August 4 until August 18, while Mr. Ingalls takes his holidays. It was decided.

Accounts for June amounting to $67.12, with $90.05 for relief, were passed.

A joint committee of the Women's Institute and the Red Cross met on Monday evening to discuss fruit canning and jam making for the district. The work is to be done under the supervision of Mrs. W. D. Miller, with workers assisting.

Arrangements were made for the purchase of 100 pounds of sugar and 500 cans, financed by the central committee of the Red Cross. Local contributions of surplus fruit for jam and canning are being solicited by this committee.

CITY RECEIVES REBATE FROM GOVERNMENT

Motor Vehicles Licence Rebate Received — Tranquille Account Deducted

A cheque for $4,121.13 has been received by the City of Kelowna from the Provincial Government. This amount represents the city's rebate from the motor vehicle licences of the district less the amount which the government claims the city owes it on Tranquille Hospital account. The amount due the city from the motor vehicles licence fees was $5,091.13. During the year the city has been billed for $796 on the Tranquille account. The Council has consistently refused to pay this amount, as it has in other years. And as in other years, the provincial government has deducted it from the city's rebate. All figures refer to the fiscal year ending March 31, 1941.

Six New Teachers Engaged By Kelowna School Trustees

Medical School Inspector and School Nurse Make Reports to Board

The applications of six teachers were accepted by the Kelowna Board of School Trustees on Wednesday and their appointments to positions on the local staff were ratified.

Miss M. E. Stewart, of Oliver, and J. E. Tait, of Little Fort, will join the staff of the Elementary School.

Teaching general subjects in the Junior High School will be Miss Beth Gillanders, of Lillooet, A. Ellis Todd, of Port Fraser, and C. M. Bedford, of Mission.

Miss Helen E. Clarke, of Duncan, has been appointed assistant in the Home Economics department.

The Board received the report of the Medical School Inspector, which read as follows:

June 27th, 1941.

The school year just concluded has been, as regards attendance and illness, a very changeable one, each one varying from its predecessor or subsequent one. This was due mainly to the war, enlistments and families moving, as a result, but chiefly to the presence for the past six months or more of German measles and scarlet fever, which seemed impossible to control perfectly, due to the visiting to and from military camps and other adjoining cities.

However, the virulence of the scarlet fever and measles was of a very much milder type than usual, so that no serious cases occurred, and so far no aftermath to the health of our pupils.

The health of our pupils as the school closes is well up to its usual high level.

The Milk Fund has once more been of great benefit to the under-nourished children.

The method of carrying on the physical education of the children and their effort in track events this year, was, I feel, a marked improvement, so that all kept up their interest in developing a good physique right to the end of the term. This, I feel, is the proper objective to keep in view rather than excelling by a few in track events once a year.

Miss MacKenzie has been untiring in her follow-up work in the home, which, due to three epidemics, has required more than double the usual number of home visits. Her work amongst the pupils is invaluable.

No serious accidents occurred during the year. The usual number were treated for galls and its prevention, and the usual number of children were seen at my office for minor complaints and diagnosis.

In closing, may I thank you as a Board for your co-operation and ever keen interest in the health of the pupils, this year as in all former years.

Report of School Nurse

The School Nurse, Miss Dorothy MacKenzie, submitted the following report:

June 25, 1941.

I wish to submit my report for the school year 1940-41.

From the public health point of view, this has not been a very successful year in the schools. Due to an extraordinary amount of sickness among the pupils, the attendance has been much lower than usual and the school year has been rather broken. Although the mumps, chicken pox and scarlet fever were kept fairly well under control, the flu, measles and rubella were impossible to control. This was partly due to the fact that they were so mild in most cases and hence very easily spread. Thirteen children were excluded from the schools with measles and twenty-two with rubella, so, with this sort of thing happening, it was impossible to keep check on the contacts, and these diseases spread very rapidly. I might add, too, that a great number of people do not realize the seriousness of breaking quarantine, and in one case, where they persisted in disregarding the regulations, the aid of the police was required. I feel something more drastic should be done to enforce quarantine regulations, as it is not fair that everyone should be exposed to infectious disease due to carelessness and thoughtlessness of those infected. It is not ignorance in most cases, but simply lack of co-operation and disregard for others. We have seen the result this year with two epidemics, fortunately of a mild nature, but, if the disease be of more serious nature, the aftermath would be quite different.

Among the school children this year, there have been 22 cases of scarlet fever, 2 cases of mumps, 13 of chicken pox, 240 of measles and 228 of rubella. With regard to the last two mentioned, there may have been more, as it was impossible to check them and no doubt there were cases that were never diagnosed. There were also quite a number of cases of these diseases among the adults and pre-schools. Before Christmas the attendance was very low as a result of colds and flu. Besides the infectious diseases, there have been several cases of skin disease: impetigo, 20; ringworm, 2, and scabies, 11.

Dr. Knox gave a medical examination at the schools to 1,170 pupils, and defects of the same nature as usual were found in the Doctor's report. Of the pupils 878 were weighed and measured (40.2 per cent were under-weight), and 968 had their eyes tested, 75 having defects.

Periodic examinations in the class room, checking of absences at the office before being admitted to the class room, has been continued. More time has been spent in home visiting this year; 782 home visits have been made; these include checking of absences and infectious diseases, follow-up work, instructional visits, etc.; 371 miscellaneous visits have been made. These visits are more of a co-operative nature, and include such visits as those to the Hospital, doctors, welfare workers, City Health Officer, tuberculosis visits other than those concerned directly with the school children, etc.

T. B. Clinic: There have been two visits from the Travelling Check Clinic, one in November and one in April, at which 28 pupils and two teachers were examined and X-rayed. None of those examined was found to have any active tuberculosis, but many have to be watched and re-checked periodically.

Tubercular tests were not given this year—they are gradually being discontinued as a routine pro-

COUNCIL RENEWS LEASE

Loane Block to be Used as City Offices for Another Year—New Premises Considered—City Hall Hint

On Monday night the City Council agreed to renew again for one year the premises presently occupied by the city staff. The building is owned by G. D. Loane and is rented by the city at $50.00 per month.

This action by the council temporarily, at least, put a quietus on the suggestion made recently that the city should immediately take steps to obtain ground-floor premises for the city offices. It has been pointed out repeatedly that the present location is far from desirable on account of the stairs which many persons cannot negotiate easily.

Recently the agitation for ground-floor premises has increased and on Monday night Alderman Hughes expressed the opinion that the public should be advised of the steps the city has taken in the matter.

Alderman Jones reported that certain buildings had been investigated but had been found unsuitable for the purpose, especially as regards light and ventilation.

Alderman Jones also dropped a hint that the matter was not entirely dead, saying: "There is a way which the city could build a city hall without floating a bond issue. Penticton has secured quite adequate premises and the value of the premises is about $12,000. Penticton spent, we could obtain premises entirely adequate for our purposes."

CITY SWAPS LOTS

George Yochim has agreed to exchange lot 13, r.p. 982, for lot 36, block 23, r.p. 1306. The city was desirous of obtaining Mr. Yochim's lot to protect its interests and made the suggestion which Mr. Yochim has accepted.

cedure, as apparently the Department of Health has decided that they are too expensive for the results that are gained from them. From our own experience here, nine-tenths of those who have positive reactions we would have expected, as we know they are contacts.

Gottre: Iodine tablets were given to children (at their own expense, if they could pay), either as a preventative for goitre or a cure—the dose varying 288 took these tablets. There were 177 cases of goitre this year—a decided drop from last year, when there were 232.

Preventorium: Notes were sent to the parents of 32 children, followed by a coming back to Kelowna, recommending them to spend some time in the Preventorium this summer. Five school children who were in very poor health were admitted in June; several others expect to come in when school closes. It is not expected that the Preventorium will stay open as late as usual this year.

Pre-School Clinic: Registration and examination of pre-school children was held June 14th. At this clinic, 65 registered and 60 were examined. Last year, 83 were present for medical examination.

Dr. Pantan and the Girls' Club combined this year and several glasses to those who needed them and were unable to supply their own. Twenty-three new cases were examined and fitted with glasses.

Five old cases were re-examined and given new glasses. Several had repairs made. Several children were examined by Dr. Pantan, but did not require glasses at present.

Accidents: Most of the injuries this year have been of a very minor nature; there has been nothing really serious. 1,402 falls, cuts, burns, etc., have been treated.

Thirty-five health talks have been given in the Elementary grades and demonstrated to infants and to the girls of the Junior High. Several of these talks were of tuberculosis, and 500 pins were sold to the children, the proceeds going to the B. C. Tuberculosis Society.

During the winter some food, clothing and shoes were distributed where needed, but, as the winter was mild and there is less unemployment, very little of this work was necessary. Two dozen tooth brushes were given to children who needed them. The Rotary Club supplied milk to many families who were unable to provide their children with milk during the winter and spring.

Immunization: Dr. Hershey held free clinics in the Primary School immunizing against diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. This service was available to school children as well as infants and pre-schools, but very few took advantage of it. The clinics were very successful, considering they were the first for some years. The private physicians held clinics the same days as the public ones, so that all who wished to go to their own doctor could do so. It is hoped that in time these clinics will take in most of the pre-school children, as it will not only eliminate a great deal of the work being done at school, but it gives these small children protection against many serious diseases from the ages of eight months to six years.

I don't know how many were immunized by the private physicians, but the following are the results of the public clinics:

Diphtheria: Toxoid: 82 complete, three doses; 4, two doses; 15, one dose; 79 infants and pre-schools, 3 school children completed.

Whooping cough: 82 complete, three doses; 15, two doses; 14, one dose; 54 infants and pre-schools, 4 school children completed.

Scarlet Fever: 96 complete, five doses; 8, four doses; 5, three doses; 15, one or two doses; 46 infants and pre-schools, 50 school children completed.

In closing, I sincerely wish to thank the School Board, Dr. Knox, the principals, teachers and staff, and all the doctors for their co-operation and assistance throughout the year. Also I wish to thank the individuals and organizations who have assisted financially and otherwise in promoting the health of the school children.

BOYSCOUT SECOND KELOWNA COUNCIL

1st Kelowna Troop

Troop First
Self Last!

Orders for week commencing Wednesday, July 16th:

The Troop will rally at 7:30 p.m., July 16th, in complete uniform.

Well, here we are again, back from eight days of camping and full of pep. We are now ready to start on our concert.

We would like to express our very heartfelt thanks to the following people who so kindly helped in making the first official camp of the 2nd Kelowna Troop a success: The Kelowna Rotary Club, for transportation to and from camp; the Howcliffe Canning Company; the Kellogg Company; the 1st Kelowna Troop, for use of camp equipment; and to Cooper's Grocery and all other persons who helped in any way. It is through the help of such people that makes the running of a Scout Troop a pleasure.

During camp, a competition was held between the patrols for highest marks in uniform neatness, tent inspection, campsite and ground inspection. The Beaver Patrol came first with a score of 454, followed by the Cougar Patrol with a score of 418. Next came the Buffalo Patrol with a score of 412, the Wolves with 411, Eagles 394 and Seals 349. The Beavers were the honor patrol during camp. We are proud of them.

The 2nd Kelowna Troop is now a Second Class Troop throughout except for two boys who are Tenderfoot Scouts. The boys passed many tests as follows:

Now, with camp over, the next big item is our Scout concert, it will be quite a job this year, as so many people are busy helping the war effort that they have little time left for Scouting.

In the column of twenty years ago we note that it was chiefly about the ninth Troop camp, which we had just held at Cedar Creek. Thirty boys attended and the camp lasted two weeks. We were expressing the hope in the column that it might be possible to acquire Cedar Creek for ourselves as a permanent site. (The need for this is still present.) It was also interesting to note that Troop Leader Jack Groves and Patrol Leader Ewen Hunter had both acquired their Reactor's Badge on the 30th of June, and that the former had also received his Pathfinder's Badge and King's Scout Badge on the same date, which the column stated, in extending congratulations, was a well-earned honor after nine years of service with the Troop.

Civilian Protection Service Gets Start at Friday Evening Meeting

Plan to Offer Application
Forms to Public—Two More
Deputies Chosen

On Friday evening last, at 7.15, in the lacrosse box at the City Park, the first general meeting of the Civilian Protection Service (A.R.P.) was held under the guidance of Chief Warden R. Whillis, who had been appointed to the post by Mayor G. A. McKay. It was assumed the office of Deputy Chief Warden, and other officers were named at a special meeting of a central committee. The meeting on Friday evening was the result of the special meeting's decision to organize a unit immediately in Kelowna. The city has been divided into seven districts, with a warden and deputy warden in charge of each section.

In an interview on Monday morning, Chief Warden Whillis said he considered that the attendance at the meeting was satisfactory, even if it was not large. Those present were given some explanation as to why the organization was formed and some idea of how it is going to function. There was a good turnout of the Women's Service Corps. Those present were divided into the seven districts, the Women's Service Corps taking the names and particulars of those in attendance. Two deputy wardens, each with a deputy warden, were named to serve under Warden G. Hammond in District 2, and George Sutherland was chosen to act as deputy for Warden H. A. Whillis, in charge of District 7. Chief Warden Whillis is of the opinion that many more would like to join the organization, hence it has been decided to have an application form appear in the next issue of The Courier. This may be filled in and turned over either to Miss Dunn or Miss Elmore, at the Provincial Government office, on Bernard Avenue.

Upon receipt of these forms, Mr. Whillis stated, the volunteers will be subdivided into districts, allotting them preferably to the districts in which they live. A number are required, including first aid and ambulance service workers, auxiliary fire fighters and men with a knowledge of explosives, electricity, waterworks, and women who are registered nurses.

First Aid Classes
"One of the first things we have to do is see that every one has a course in first aid after the organizing is over. We are not going to wait until the weather is better for meetings," the Chief Warden stated. Classes in first aid will likely be organized under George Watts.

The service would be purely voluntary, Mr. Whillis stated. Applicants would be assigned to the duties for which they are most suited, but everybody could not be guaranteed a job. Volunteers would have to understand that they must obey their superiors, and a certain amount of discipline would have to be enforced if the Civilian Protection Service was to function effectively.

Asked about the pre-arranged signal that will be used to call out the members of the organization, the Chief Warden said that nothing has been settled as yet. Decision will be made by the central committee. "The main thing is to get a bunch of names and segregate those who are most useful to us," Mr. Whillis explained. Many persons are required to fill the ranks of the new organization, and it is hoped that there will be a large and effective response to the invitation to join.

Cadets and Boy Scouts could play a useful part as runners and messengers. Later on, when the new organization is functioning properly, it is likely that plans will be laid co-operate with other centres in staging a blackout.

LICENCE REGULATIONS MADE BY BOARD

Shippers Licence Fees for Current Season are Set by B.C. Fruit Board

Regulations governing the licensing of persons packing, storing or marketing any portion of the 1941 crop have been issued by the B. C. Fruit Board.

The licensees have been divided into two groups; one group composed of persons or firms handling less than 5,000 boxes, and the remainder in a second group.

The licence fee of the first group has been set at $100.00. While 5,000 is the dividing line of the groups, 40 pounds of apples, crabs or pears, is considered a standard box, as is 20 pounds of any other fruit.

The second group will be subdivided into additional groups, the records of the Board being used to determine what sub-group the shipper is placed in. The sub-group will be determined by the number of boxes in excess of 5,000 the licensee handled last year.

Shippers in this large second group will pay the basic fee of $100 plus a sum equal to 12.5 multiplied by the number of the sub-group in which they are placed. Thus, a shipper in sub-group one would pay $100 plus 12.5 multiplied by one, or a total of $112.50. Sub-group two would pay $125, etc.

Shippers must forward true copies of all invoices to the Board within twenty-four hours after the

BASEBALL PICTURE BRIGHTENS

"Smokoey" Smokovich Takes Mound to Lift Kelowna Nine
Out of Dumps

Kelowna's baseball team came through with a last minute batting rally to win their fixture in the City Park, on Sunday last, against Vernon, and to make the Interior League standing much closer, with a triple tie possible, should Kelowna take Kamloops in their encounter there next Sunday. The final score in Sunday's game was 9-8.

The heroes of the contest were Kelowna's young rookie outfielder, Colin Brown, and a visiting school teacher from Avonlea, Sask., John Smokovich, whose southpaw chucking held Vernon scoreless for the last four innings. It was a clutch from the bats of these two that scored the tying and winning runs in the hectic final inning. Smokovich thereby winning his own game.

The game was featured by some good infield work by Vernon, but the outfielders were overcome by the heat, or something, on both teams, and fumbles and listless playing were too much in evidence. Rudy Kitch, for some months, returned in time to be pressed into the job of chucking against the Vernon nine. He went along fine for three innings, but in the fourth was touched for four hits and a walk. However, thanks to a double play, Kitch'ski to Leier to A. Kitch, he got off at the cost of only two runs. In the fifth the Vernon batters went to town and garnered no less than six runs on four hits, a walk and an error. At this juncture, Smokovich was persuaded to don a uniform and take over mound duties.

While he only fanned two batters in the remaining four frames, the Vernon batters were unable to drive his deliveries, and pop flies and bounding infield balls with large size "handles" resulted in easy put-outs.

George Nuyens, adorned with a large growth of whiskers cultivated for the Vernon Frontier Days celebration, went the whole route for the visitors and kept the locals scoreless for the nine innings. In the third Kelowna garnered four runs, Leier starting the rally with a base on balls, followed by hard hit singles by A. Kitch and Holisky, the latter scoring Leier and Kitch. R. Kitch also singled, scoring Holisky, and Colin Brown cracked out a double to score Rudy Kitch from second. Gourlie then popped one to third, retiring the side.

Kelowna added two more in the fourth, to take a nice lead, 6 runs to 2, only to lose the lead again in the next inning. Kelowna's two counters in the fourth came on hits by Hodgeson and Leier (a two-bagger) and a sacrifice hit by Andy Kitch. Kelowna threatened in the sixth, when they loaded the bases, with two away, only to have Rudy Kitch do "Casey at the bat" turn by striking out.

The big excitement of the game came in its dying moments, however. The last half of the ninth inning saw Vernon, with the game in the bag, let it slip away from them. Holisky, the first man up, got a life on an error by third, the throw in first being short. He was forced at second, however, on Kitch'ski's grounder to the same base. Rudy then stole second. Rudy Kitch'ski poked out a high fly to left field that should have been an easy out. Kitch'ski, thinking there were two away, ran to third. By also making a good baseball that should have been the end, but luck was with Kelowna and the fielder dropped the ball. Kitch'ski scoring. Young Colin Brown then came to bat and came through with his second two-base hit of the game to drive in the winning run. It was now Gourlie's turn to bat, and he swung wildly at a third strike that even the catcher could not reach, and got safe to first on a passed ball. Brown going to third. It was Smokovich, the chucker, who wrote fins to the game, coming up to bat and smacking the first pitched ball on the nose for a Texas leaguer to send Brown across the plate with the winning run, thereby winning his own game, an honor not frequently coming to pitchers.

"Smokoey" is expected to be available for the balance of the season, product is shipped. Shippers may be asked at any time to make a statutory declaration as to the accuracy of any invoice filed by them. All shipments must be inspected by a Dominion Government inspector and a certificate issued covering the inspection.

AQUATIC RIPPLES

Well, sir, the sure was some Barn Dance at the Aquatic last Wednesday, by crackin' it. If you didn't take it in, you sure missed a barrel of fun—good fun. The costumes were exceptionally good and almost 100 per cent had special dress for the occasion. Miss Queen Herdison carried off the ladies' prize, and she was as smart as a whip in her milkmaid's costume. The men's prize went to Francis Buck, and he was dressed fit to kill.

A bouquet to the orchestra too—their music was verra, verra good and peppy, lots of old tunes mixed in with the new ones, and their "Barn" dress was extra good.

The square dance was a novelty that proved to be a lot of fun—our friend, Ben Williamson, sure knows how to call 'em off, too.

The Aquatic, too, was very suitably decorated. The girls of the Ladies Aquatic Auxiliary deserve a great deal of credit for the splendid manner in which the whole affair was organized and put over. More power to you, ladies, and the square dance was a novelty that proved to be a lot of fun—our friend, Ben Williamson, sure knows how to call 'em off, too.

Say, have you written to your friends, both in Canada and across the line, to let them know that Kelowna's "Go-to-Victory" Regatta is on Wednesday and Thursday, August 6th and 7th? It is really a wonderful time for your friends to visit Kelowna. The Regatta will be just as big and colorful as ever, and the proceeds go to War Activities again this year.

The swimming classes are the biggest in the Aquatic's history, averaging over 200 at every class. For the children, the times are Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at 10 a.m., and for the older ones and adults, the same days, but at 7:00 p.m.

Some real activity is being evidenced in the rowing circles. Incidentally, Len Hill and Bill Treadgold were out in the doubles the other day, and it was as nice an exhibition of doubles as we have seen.

The war canoes are busy and are shaping up very well. There are two crews of mighty paddlers. Keep up the good work, fellows, and get in plenty of practice—it is one of the most spectacular events of the Regatta.

On Monday evening last, a little regatta was put on for Kelowna's visitors, the Rotary convention. It was a good show, too—rowing, canoeing, swimming, clowning and fancy diving and several novelty numbers. Roy Longley worked hard on organizing this affair, and he must be well satisfied with the way it went over.

as he is spending the summer holidays at the home of his brother-in-law, J. Holisky, of Rutland. Manager Bob Phinney was away from the city over the weekend on business and was, in consequence, unable to attend the game, Art Gray deputizing for him.

The next game in Kelowna will be on Sunday, July 27th, when Kamloops plays at the Kelowna Athletic Park. It will be the last home game for the Kelowna team, unless they make the play-offs.

Monsees, of Vernon, repete with goatee and side-burns, unending Sunday's game, and was in a very favorable performance, squawks being very infrequent and evenly divided between the teams.

CITY ISSUES WEED WARNING

Noxious weeds again came before the City Council on Monday night. A letter from the C.N.R. reported that all weeds had been cleared from their property on July 9th and one of the aldermen stated that an excellent job had been done.

On the other hand city officials had found it necessary to warn several citizens that they must cut weeds on their property. Mrs. Irene B. Emslie was sent a letter about the weeds on lot 3, block B, r.p. 2220 and W. J. Leslie, Box 1116, Kelowna, was advised to cut the weeds on lots 9, 10 and 14, r.p. 2767.

A complaint was also received about the weeds on lots 5, 6 and 7, block 12, r.p. 202.

R. B. HOMERSHAM GIVES VIEWS ON CONFERENCE

Interior Vegetable Marketing Board Member Talks to Kamloops Sentinel on Potato Deal

Recently, The Courier informed its readers of the conference between the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board and the Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, held in Kelowna. This conference discussed the potato deal mainly and argued over the percentage of cars which the Interior would be allowed to ship to Coast markets now that the prairie market is almost eliminated because of local crops.

R. B. Homersham, of Rayleigh Mount, has explained to the Kamloops Sentinel the history of the disagreement between the two boards. He also outlined the one-deck arrangements which he proposed at the Kelowna conference. Mr. Homersham believes that his scheme appears to have the unofficial blessing of Hon. K. C. Macdonald, but the Coast board did not seem to greet it with much favor.

Following is a copy of Mr. Homersham's report:
Back in 1937 there was substantial agreement between the boards that the interior's normal marketings on the coast ranged between 330 cars and 360 cars per season. A quota system was proposed, but was not favored by the interior, because its deal was on a carlot basis, preferred to control the disposition of the crop by a day-to-day price differential, depending upon the produce available for marketing and the market's ability to absorb.

Quota Impossible
At a meeting between coast and interior board representatives, held in 1938, the interior board reiterated its view that the upper country's carlot-shipping deal made a definite grower-quota impossible, and stressed that a price-differential based on quality and demand would control marketings on a firm yet more elastic basis.

A complicating factor entered the potato deal at about that time when the interior board, at the suggestion of the coast board, agreed to sell Pemberton spuds (a district within the coast board's jurisdiction) through its agent at Vancouver. The Pemberton growers rolled 40 cars as loaded without consideration to the market's ability or willingness to absorb. The coast board didn't exercise its power to protect the market. The Ashcroft potato-men immediately brought pressure on the interior board to release that district's crop. The interior deal is not on a similar basis to the coast (the interior board buys the spuds from the grower and sells through its bonded agent to the wholesaler); it refused to sacrifice price for movement, for to do so would be only to compete again on a lower price level.

Not Square Deal
For some time now, Mr. Homersham told the Sentinel, the interior board has not been getting a square deal on the market, despite its various understandings with the coast board. For instance, last season, after the year before it was understood there was to be an interchange of marketing information between the Vancouver sales representative of the interior board, the interior kept faith but says Mr. Homersham, "We did not receive any important information, and it would appear we trusted too much as to the accuracy of what we did get."

Mr. Homersham further substantiates that charge by reference to a letter that recently appeared in the metropolitan press over the signature of Les. Gilmore, chairman of the B.C. (coast) vegetable marketing board. The figures cited by Mr. Gilmore prove, in Mr. Homersham's view, the truth of the charge the interior board made last year that the coast board was taking more than its agreed share of the market. The 1941 crop-year results also prove, says Mr. Homersham, that the coast board has ignored the arrangement entered into in 1937. Last season the interior board shipped 235 cars to Vancouver market, about 90 carlots less than the normal average of 325 carlots a season. And this despite the fact the consumption of potatoes on the Vancouver market in the last eight months has been considerably above normal. Provincial government statistics estimate potato consumption in B.C. during that period was up 12 per cent because of extra employment and the number of soldiers stationed on the coast.

At the same time, the interior board complains bitterly because the contract for supplying vegetables to the department of national defence has been awarded to the B.C. (coast) vegetable marketing board, which is using coast potatoes exclusively to fill its contract. When the interior board last winter asked for a share of that business it was unable to get any consideration, and heard, in a roundabout way, that the coast board had rejected the suggestion as "interfering with board business."

Referring to the proposed joint one-deck sales arrangement suggested to last week's Kelowna conference, Mr. Homersham says the point of disagreement was the fact that the coast board that the manager of the one-deck organization should be, also, the coast board's sales agency. If that were permitted, the interior growers would be on the short end of the stick, for coast growers and jobbers would have a legitimate avenue of bringing pressure to bear on the "one-deck" for their own ends.

The interior board's suggestion was that each board retain its agency, but sell through a one-deck arrangement, the manager of which would be elected by a "grievance committee" made up of one representative of each board with a neutral chairman. Dean F. M. Clement, of U.B.C., was suggested as the chairman, but since there was no

SERVICE CORPS AMALGAMATES WITH RED CROSS

British Columbia Women's Service Corps Joins the Canadian Red Cross Corps—Kelowna Detachment Approves Move

The British Columbia Women's Service Corps, the first women's corps to be organized in Canada, with a membership of more than 1,200, has amalgamated with the Canadian Red Cross Corps. This amalgamation culminates to the mutual satisfaction of both Corps negotiations which have extended over a period of months, carried out by Mrs. W. J. Allan, C.B.E., Chilliwack, Provincial Chairman of the Canadian Red Cross Corps, and Mrs. Norman A. Kennedy, Victoria, Controller of the B. C. Women's Service Corps.

All fourteen detachments of the B. C. W. S. C., located at Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, Duncan, Vernon, Kamloops, Penticton, Kelowna, Chilliwack, Port Alberni, Courtenay, Prince Rupert, Revelstoke and Sidney, met unanimously in favor of the amalgamation. "This is the first step toward the building of a national corps," said Mrs. Kennedy, "and we feel, as the first corps to form in Canada, we should also be the first to lead the way toward greater co-ordination of all such voluntary corps in the Dominion." Mrs. Kennedy will be the commandant of the Corps.

Formed in Four Sections
The members of the B. C. Women's Service Corps have been trained in four sections of volunteer service—transport driving, auxiliary nursing, food preparation, and office work, and these conform with the existing structure of the Red Cross Corps in the province. "When called upon to form a detachment of the Red Cross Corps in this province, this was immediately apparent," stated Mrs. Allan. "We hope that this amalgamation is a prelude to closer co-operation between all similar women's organizations in the province. It may even extend into other provinces."

Mr. George Derby, President of the B. C. Red Cross Division, has extended, on behalf of the Red Cross, "a hearty welcome to the B.C.W.S.C. to join under the banner of the Red Cross and to assist the Society in upholding its international principles," in accordance with a resolution passed at a recent provincial executive meeting. "Leaders of similar groups have discussed with me their position in relation to the Canadian Red Cross, and I have been pleased to inform them that consideration will be given to applications from qualified members interested in joining the Red Cross Corps," he said.

agreement between the delegates he has not been approached. Such an organization as proposed by the interior board, in Mr. Homersham's opinion, "would ensure to the boards accurate knowledge of crop movement, market demand and prices" and also would ensure that "no jobber or grower could bring direct pressure to bear on the one-deck sales manager."

But, continues Mr. Homersham, any such one-deck arrangement would have to be grounded upon acceptance by the coast board that the normal ratio on the coast market is 325 carlots of interior potatoes per normal crop-year and 325 carlots of coast spuds. This basis should not be disturbed by acreage increases, and should expand or contract only with the coast market's ability to absorb potatoes at established board prices.

of the French-Canadians has greatly intensified. And the one man chiefly responsible for the French-Canadian fervor for a strong war effort is Premier Adélard Godbout.

Our convention was addressed by M. Godbout, twice and extemporaneously, first in French, then in English.

After the first few quiet sentences in French, the French-speaking members seemed suddenly to grow tense, and to give the speaker most unusual attention, then they seemed to catch fire, and almost to become part of the speech itself.

The English-speaking present sat quietly amused at the obvious ardor created by the address. Then M. Godbout began speaking in English, evidently French translated in the speaker's mind into English words, logical and clear.

Soon the English-speaking too grew tense, gave the same rapt attention, then, like the others, became fired with the inspired words.

When the Divine Hand dips into the jars of precious essences and endows a new soul for the start of its earthly journey, sometimes a generous portion of some particular talent is given to the favored one. Mr. Godbout is very evidently so blessed.

What did he say? He spoke hardly at all about Canada, but much about the British Empire. Of how those Canadians who spoke the French language owed privileges and rights and liberties they now enjoy to the British Empire, and of how, therefore, it was vitally necessary for the French-speaking Canadians to strive even harder than their English-speaking brothers to help the Empire in its desperate hour. "Because," said Premier Godbout, "in no other country in the world do our French-speaking people enjoy as many privileges and rights as they here in Canada."

Mr. Godbout gave as his firm conviction that this was not the time for the Canadians who spoke French, or indeed, for any other

TO FILL SLOUGHS IN NORTH END

S. M. Simpson Co. Ltd. has asked and received permission from the Kelowna City Council to pile lumber on City property adjacent to its mill.

The company and the City have also entered into an arrangement whereby the company will dump waste lumber in the sloughs in the northern section of the city. This will enable the company to dispose of the waste but at the same time it will fill the sloughs which have been a source of concern to the City for some time.

Canadians, to think of privileges, of rights, of contracts, or of special liberties, but that instead this was a time for all simply to do their duty to the utmost, to fight in order to preserve the very life itself of the British Empire against the aggressor who is striving to tear it to pieces.

"In short," said Mr. Godbout, "the French-speaking Canadian people must engage in an active competition with the English-speaking people to see which group can make the greatest sacrifice for the Empire."

"I give the most positive assurance to the English-speaking Canadians," he said, "that my people will not only match every sacrifice others undertake, but that we shall willingly and gladly undertake even greater tasks, and be willing to endure even greater sacrifices than the English-speaking people, simply because we have even more at stake."

"No sacrifice," Mr. Godbout continued, "can be demanded in the supply of money or of hard work or in the supply of young men for the armies that will be found too great for us to do."

The reaction of the audience was extraordinarily enthusiastic. "Another Laurier has arisen," was the general comment.

"Never sold a dog, always coaxed him."

project of conservation of surplus produce, and a very valuable contribution was made to the war effort by shipping overseas six and one-half tons of jam and preserved fruit. This year, the plan is to be extended further, if possible, and more Women's Institutes are alwill be fruit too ripe for shipping and fruit that has been hailed but which can be used to make jam for

For General Fitness, say— "NABISCO SHREDDED WHEAT"

The food you eat has much to do with your capacity to perform the extra work that is rightly demanded from every citizen in wartime. Eat the food that has made Canada "the granary of the Empire"—whole wheat.

Nabisco Shredded Wheat is 100% whole wheat, with nothing added. You get the proteins, carbohydrates, phosphorus and iron contained in pure whole wheat. And, because the wheat is unmilld, all the important wheat germ is retained. To benefit from the abundant food-energy that Nature put into Canadian wheat—buy and serve Nabisco Shredded Wheat regularly. Ask for it by the full name "Nabisco Shredded Wheat".

Labor Situation During Harvest
Causes Considerable Anxiety

Every Indication Every Available Man, Woman and Child
Will be Necessary

Tomatoes being late this year, and ready for picking at the height of the McIntosh season, will create a labor situation here which is already causing concern to interested parties.

Many pickers, packers and other orchard labor hands have left the Valley this year to join the service forces. This fact in itself would cause a serious shortage of labor, but added to it is the fact that this year there is a large increase in the tomato acreage, and that crop gives every indication of ripening about the Mac season.

The Kelowna Junior Board of Trade anticipated the situation some weeks ago and sought the growers' co-operation in making a survey of the position. Over 600 questionnaires were sent to growers in the Central Okanagan. To date, only 67 of these have been returned, and these growers indicated that they would need 321 men during September and October.

A committee representing all the interested organizations in the district considered the matter on Friday and, as a result, growers are strongly urged to complete the simple questionnaire they have received and to return it at once. It is emphasized that this is an attempt to help the grower and not the other; that the situation gives every indication of being a serious one, and that, unless the growers co-operate, to the extent at least of returning the questionnaire, little can be done.

It is felt that considerable local labor is available if it could be mobilized. There is a strong feeling that the schools, at least the higher grades, should remain closed for an additional month. If it is necessary to make up this time, the Christmas holidays could be drastically curtailed, the proponents of the idea claim.

The possibility of a month's leave of absence to local men now serving in the Army has also been considered. While this was done in the last war, there seems to be little hope of the scheme being a practical one this year. It is pointed out that most of the experienced orchard men now in the Army are either overseas or in Eastern Canada. A few are at the Coast, however.

There is, nevertheless, a large reservoir of help available if it can be tapped. This is the men and women in the cities who would not ordinarily help in the orchards. Young women and young men and some older ones, it is believed, could readily fit into the scheme if they realized it is not a question of this year of a job but rather a patriotic duty to the country and the district.

It is essential that the crop comes off the trees and vines at the right time. If it does not, it is a total loss. It is indicated that an appeal will be made to all persons in the district to consider their position and, if they can assist in any way, they will be asked to register at the provincial employment office.

This year, more than ever, there will be a shortage of domestic help, and this will aggravate the harvest situation. Not only will it make it impossible for some housewives to assist in the orchards, but it may seriously affect the opportunity some women now have of continuing with their business positions.

Proponents of the school closing idea point to this situation as one which could be considerably alleviated if the schools remained closed for a month. They point out that many while giving capable girls would be available for household duties, either in their own homes or other homes. This would release other women to assist in the har-

ROTARYANNS ENTERTAINED

Visiting Rotaryans Feted by Local Women

The visiting Rotaryans were widely entertained during the two day Rotary convention, held here on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Drives around the surrounding country to points of outstanding interest were greatly enjoyed as well as golfing, swimming and boat rides. Monday noon, the first official get-together was the luncheon at the Eldorado Arms, where Mrs. W. H. McDougall, the local Rotary President's wife, welcomed the guests.

In the afternoon, a tea was held in the lovely lakeshore garden at Mrs. McDougall's home, where Mrs. McDougall, assisted by Mrs. George Wiseman and Mrs. George Anderson, received the guests.

Presiding at the beautifully appointed tea tables were Mrs. J. W. N. Shepherd, Mrs. C. R. Bull, Mrs. W. W. McPherson and Mrs. R. Corner. Mrs. J. Cameron Day was in charge of the tables.

Serviteurs included Mrs. Cyril Mossop, Mrs. Don Loane, Mrs. E. Crawford, Mrs. Grote Stirling, Mrs. L. Kerry, Mrs. J. M. Hershey, Mrs. W. Harper, Miss M. McDougall, and the Misses Yvonne Anderson, Barbara Burrows, Alleen McDougall and Poppy Hoy.

During the afternoon Gordon Finch took a large number of the guests for rides in his boat, the "Vivienne."

Tuesday, a luncheon was held at the Willow Lodge, which wound up the entertainment.

Golden summer flowers were used throughout the Lodge in massed arrangements, and the table centres were also of golden nasturtiums and golden glow.

Mrs. Isobel Murray Campbell and Miss Kathleen Aikman accompanied by Mrs. Cyril Mossop at the piano rendered several violin duets and solos, which were greatly enjoyed during the luncheon.

Mrs. W. R. Downey, of Vancouver, wife of the District Governor, thanked the Kelowna ladies for their wonderful hospitality throughout the convention. Mrs. W. H. H. McDougall responded for the local ladies.

William Fuller leaves tonight for Toronto where he has accepted a commission with the R.C.A.F. as an instructor. Mr. Fuller was in the Flying Corps during the Great War.

Mickey Jones returned Wednesday from a vacation of two weeks duration at the Coast.

On Friday many suggestions were considered, such as that of moving pickers from one district to another as the situation warranted. This, however, was not thought very practical if the Macs and tomatoes are on in the central Okanagan at the same time.

One scheme which will free a certain amount of labor at the crucial time is the closing down of city work during that period. It has been indicated that the city would co-operate and finish any uncompleted works project after the harvest.

A small committee, composed of representatives of the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board, B. C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., the Kelowna Board of Trade and the Junior Board of Trade, is being formed to further consider the situation and to keep the general public informed of the necessity of its co-operation.

KELOWNA LOSES LACROSSE GAME

Friday-Night Melee Sees Temper Rise, Fists Fly

Vernon and Kelowna met in another session of boxa in the City Park on Friday evening. Bad sports made their presence known on several occasions when fists flew and sticks were waved.

The first quarter started with both teams playing very cautiously. When it closed, the score stood at two goals for Vernon as against none for Kelowna.

Harold Handlen opened the scoring for Kelowna in the second period, his goal being the only one registered for Kelowna in this period, while Vernon scored three times, giving them a lead of 5 to one.

Not to be outdone by Mr. Palmer, who gave a wonderful exhibition of roller skating, Terry O'Brien and G. Dobie, of Vernon, put on a boxing display in this quarter, both drawing numerous penalties.

R. Herbert and L. Kwong also wanted to show what good sluggers they were, and both drew five minutes on the bench, all these penalties coming at the same time.

In the fourth quarter, Hodgson scored twice for Kelowna, while Vernon added three to their score, raising the count to 8-3 in their favor. Rawlings, of Kelowna, and G. Dobie, of Vernon, decided to give the spectators another exhibition of boxing, but much to the disgust of the crowd the Vernon referee gave Rawlings ten minutes and G. Dobie five.

Kelowna has one game at Vernon on July 24th, and Salmon Arm plays here on July 25th. If Kelowna can take these two games, the locals will still be in the running for the play-offs, as the first two teams play off for the Valley championship.

The lacrosse executive is working hard to keep the game going and, as most of the Kelowna players are of school age, it is very disappointing that there is not a better attendance at these games.

Six of the Kelowna players of last season are now on active service. Several other players have been lost to the war training schools and three more are going to the Air Force very shortly.

Referee Palmer, who is visiting his brother Bill of Shireffs Store, treated the crowd to a very fine exhibition of fancy roller skating during the rest periods. He is a former ice skating instructor from the prairie. The incident music was supplied by the public address system. The club wishes to thank Mr. Palmer for his very fine exhibition.

Referees: Dock Douglas, Vernon; C. Atkinson, Kelowna, Timekeeper: J. Conway, Sr. Scorekeeper: L. Taggart. Cede Boyer handled the public address system.

Mrs. P. Ward last week received word of the death of her sister, Miss K. Covey, at Oakland, California.

Dr. O'Meara and Dr. Richards, of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, visited one day last week at the homes of A. Loudon, Sr. and G. C. Hume.

Jim Inglis, who enlisted in the Navy some time ago, left on Saturday for Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hicks recently spent a week end at Mabel Lake.

Mrs. Charles Henderson returned home on Friday last from a holiday spent at Camp Hurlbut, where she had been in charge of a group of C.G.I.T. girls for ten days.

Mrs. G. H. Moubay returned home early last week from a holiday at Ewing's Landing.

Mrs. A. Kennedy and Mrs. G. H. Moubay, who are in charge of the Glenmore Red Cross Unit, have decided to continue the sewing meetings until August 1st, when they will close down for a short but much needed holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snowsall and two children are holidaying this week at Mabel Lake, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubbard and children, of Kelowna.

Cherries in this district have all been picked and a few early apples have already gone in to the packing houses.

Mr. Alan Black, manager for the A. McKim Advertising Agency in Vancouver, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Harry Everard, of Kelowna.

LOCAL SAILOR MARRIES AT VANCOUVER

Sub-Lieut. John A. Newton, R.C.N.R., and Marjorie Ellen Hill Wed at Coast

A wedding of interest to many Kelowna people took place on Saturday, July 12th, at Wilson Heights Church, Kensington Heights, Vancouver, when Marjorie Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill, of Kelowna, became the bride of Sub-Lieut. John A. Newton, R.C.N.R., of Esquimalt, the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Newton, of Kelowna.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. A. V. Howlett, of Vancouver, chose a becoming white embroidered frock, with picture hat to match, and a corsage of pink roses. Her only ornament was a gold locket, the gift of the groom.

Miss Rosemary Newton, sister of the groom, who was the bride's only attendant, wore a beige lace redingote dress, with her hat and further accessories of green. Her corsage was of roses.

The groom was supported by Sub-Lieut. G. Macdonald, R.C.N.R. A reception was held at the home

SCOTIA APPLES GO TO BRITAIN

Thirteen Million Pounds of Dried Apples from Maritimes sold to British Government

KENTVILLE, N.S. (C.P.)—The Canadian Government has made a tentative sale of 13,500,000 pounds of Annapolis Valley dried apples to the British Food Ministry, Col. R. L. Wheeler, Canadian Fruit Commissioner, said last week.

The order, the equivalent of about 1,000,000 barrels of fresh fruit, would be the largest single sale of the product ever made anywhere. Its value was not disclosed.

Before the war, the largest sale of Valley dried apples to the United Kingdom totaled only 70,000 lbs. Last season, a new type of product was turned out here for the first time, and growers said it met with an exceptionally favorable reception in Britain.

Fruit men said the order would
